STATE CONVENTION COMES TO NEW CASTLE

In 3 Weeks, Will Figures, 'Choose' Will Be Defined

(Special To The News)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21. —When a word comes out and you don't know what it means, you rush to old man Webster, but when one comes out and even Webster don't know what it means, why our only chance to learn what it means is to ask the man that used it.

But when he only replies "it means what it means," why we are not any better informed than we are at first. So we just have to wait till something happens that makes him divulge his secret.

Well, in Kansas City three weeks from today, it happens. We will learn for the first time on any stage if "choose" means "yes," "no," "maybe," "I can't tell yet," "who knows," "search me," "probably" or "perhaps."

I claim that it means "will" under proper pressure, so don't argue.

Just wait three weeks.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Regions east and north of New Castle must have had something akin to a cloudburst Saturday evening. Roads and fields are badly washed out in places.

New Castle cops are again wearing the blue uniforms, except those doing traffic duty. Nick Fiella, downtown cop, says he's having quite a time with his new uniforms. Like a small boy, he's lost without any pockets in his coat, and the uniforms are without coat pockets.

Traffic officers were waging war on the double parking program of some autoists on Saturday afternoon and evening. All of which meets with the unanimous approval of Pa Newc. There is no reason for any motorist violating regulations and tying up a dozen or more autos and stalling traffic for several blocks.

Word again comes from Mercer that the state is going ahead with the project of improving eight miles of the Perry highway south from Mercer, this summer. It is expected that the contract will be awarded within the next few weeks. The idea is that the stretch from the end of the improved road through Harlansburg in this county would be completed in another year.

New Castle's representatives to the Business and Professional Women's Club convention at Williamsport have returned home. They made a most satisfactory appeal for the next convention for New Castle. The decision was put up to the state executive board. Chester was the other city making a strenuous effort to get the convention, but New Castle won.

Dogwood blossoms are now in evidence throughout the woods of Lawrence county. There are literally thousands of them. Very few persons violated the statewide appeal to leave the flowers alone. Pa Newc saw but one auto yesterday that carried any wild flowers.

Uncle Joe Bestler, the East Side's oldest resident, sits in peace, smoking his old cob pipe, on the porch of his Washington street home. Summer is almost here and Uncle Joe is glad, for once again he will be able to work with his flowers. So he sits on his porch, waiting for summer.

The usual number of Sunday automobile accidents was reported yesterday. With traffic conditions as congested as they are Sunday afternoons and evenings, every motorist should drive with the maximum of care. But do they do it? The police blotter bears witness that they do not.

While garneners continue their futile efforts, they are being sadly discouraged by the numbers of unleashed dogs that run over the North Hill. One man, who always rides down on the street car with Pa Newc says that he is about to give up in

Business Women Name New Castle For Convention

Delegates At Williamsport Choose New Castle For 1929 Gathering

DELEGATES BACK FROM WILLIAMSPORT

Dr. Mildred Rogers Takes Part On Program; New Castle Accorded Honor

New Castle will be the city in which the 1929 convention of the Pennsylvania Business and Professional Women's Clubs will take place, it was announced this morning by Dr. Mildred Rogers, president of the local club, who returned from the 1928 convention Sunday evening.

Invitations for the next convention were asked for at the Saturday morning session of this year's convention, which took place at Williamsport. Chester and New Castle were the two cities which put in the strongest bids for the affair, and after the balloting had taken place it was announced that New Castle had won. Dr. Rogers expects more than 400 delegates and members to attend next year's convention, to be held in May 1929.

Seven New Castle members of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs attended the convention at Williamsport. They were Dr. Mildred Rogers, president of the local club; Miss Nancy Bechtol, Dr. Elizabeth McLaughrey, Miss Helen Hinkson, Miss Mary Browne and State Director Miss Mabel Hutchison.

Convention Opens

At 10 o'clock Friday morning the convention opened. The morning session was devoted to reports, and in one it was stated that there are now 33 clubs in the state, a gain of 10 clubs over 1927. A membership of 2,418 was also reported.

This meeting was followed by a luncheon at the Park Hotel, at which round table discussions took place on memberships, programs and the problems of presidents. Dr. Mildred Rogers was one of the speakers.

Friday afternoon the health report showed that 81 per cent of the Pennsylvania members of the clubs had not missed any time from work on account of illness during the year. Miss Charlotte Carr of the bureau of women and children, State Department of Labor and Industry, gave a speech on "Women in Industry". A tea at the summer cottage of the Williamsport Club followed the meeting and a reception was the event of the evening.

Noted New York Gangster Slain

Patrick Mitchell, 28, Known As "Lynx", And Feared Gunman, Is Found Murdered

SLAYING SUSPECT IS UNDER ARREST

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—The guns of gangdom have blazed again—this time in a sumptuous Greenwich Village speakeasy—and another underworld character Patrick Mitchell, 28, "The Lynx" as he was called, has passed on. He was lured to the place by a telephone call, given "two minutes to pray" and shot to death. He was found with six bullets in him and his head on the brass bar rail.

Under arrest today in connection with the murder is James Russell, alias "Jimmy the Gin," who was captured by Arthur Schultheiss, a rookie policeman, as he rushed pell mell out of the speakeasy a few seconds after the shooting. Schultheiss commandeered a taxicab, chased "Jimmy the Gin" for a block or two and put him under arrest. Russell had tossed his gun away as he ran. He vehemently denied he had slain Mitchell and lapsed into silence. He was to be arraigned in homicide court today. "The Lynx" was one of the most feared gunmen in the underworld.

WHISTLES BLOW AT 3:45; DAILY CALL FOR SAFETY

This is Pedestrian Week. Under the auspices of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council a week of personal accident prevention is being observed, the idea being to reduce to as low a minimum as possible, the number of fatalities which occur through automobiles hitting pedestrians.

Here in New Castle the industries are co-operating with the council in promoting Pedestrian Week. David S. Pyle, general manager of the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, announced today that starting today and continuing through Friday, the whistle of the Shenango Plant, New Castle Plant and Carnegie Steel Company would blow at 3:45 p. m., each day.

Warn New Castle

The whistle is for a three fold purpose. First it warns the school children that they have left the safety of the school room and are out in traffic, second it warns automobile drivers that school has dismissed and that the streets will be filled with youngsters, and third it calls to the attention of the general public the fact that safety for pedestrians is being stressed this week.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of Schools has instructed the principals of each school to notify the pupils of the various schools of the whistle blowing, and in the mills, notices will be posted explaining why the whistles will blow at 3:45.

Every person not touched by these two announcements should remember that at 3:45 each afternoon when the whistles blow, it is a call to safety, safety for the pedestrians and safety for the automobile drivers.

Chinese Are Warned America Will Protect Citizens With Soldiers

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, May 21.—A guardian wall of United States troops will be thrown around American residents of North China if fighting breaks out between Nationalists and Northerners in the Peking-Tien-Tsin area.

John Van A. MacMurray, United States minister at Peking, through the American consul here, has advised the Nationalist administration at Nanking that American lives will be protected, although the note is emphatic in pointing out that the United States does not intend to interfere in any way in Chinese affairs.

A similar note has been handed to the Peking government, warning that American lives will be protected.

The situation in the north is already acute, but if the crisis reached a climax the Americans will be concentrated in one area so that protection will be made easier.

Admiral Mark Bristol, commander of the United States naval units in Asiatic waters, is understood to be at Tien-Tsin, where a small United States fleet is being assembled.

The United States marines will be under command of Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler.

Dirigible Italia Ready For Flight Over North Pole

General Umberto Nobile Announces Plans For Projected Polar Flight Tonight

WIFE WARNS ABOUT DROPPING CROSS

Craft Will Be Halted For Two Hours Over North Pole For Scientific Research

(International News Service)

OSLO, NORWAY, May 21.—Gen. Umberto Nobile, Italian Arctic eplorer, plans to hop off at Kings Bay tonight in the Dirigible Italia for a direct flight to the North Pole. According to a radiogram from Spitzbergen today.

Gen. Nobile intends to halt for two hours directly over the pole, weather permitting, to enable two scientists, Prof. Malmgren and Prof. Crojani, to leave the ship. The scientists will be landed upon the ice with rope ladders to make scientific studies.

It is learned that Gen. Nobile received a letter from his wife warning against dropping the Papal cross at the North Pole for fear that "the consequences might prove fateful". Before his departure from Italy Pope Pius XI presented Gen. Nobile with a wooden cross. It was planned to plant it in the ice at the North Pole with a brief religious ceremony. Whether this plan will be carried out remains in doubt.

Dense Fog Over New York Harbor For 48 Hours Causes Five Collisions

More Than 1,000 Passengers Aboard Three Big Vessels Are Imperilled, But Unhurt

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—The dense fog which hung over New York harbor and the Atlantic seaboard for forty-eight hours causing five collisions among ten vessels and the grounding of an eleventh, had cleared today and conditions were again almost normal. Insurance officials estimated that the cost of repairs and damage to the ships would approximate $3,000,000.

No lives were lost, and no one was seriously injured although passengers on several of the vessels were much inconvenienced. There were more than 1,000 passengers aboard the three vessels chiefly affected—the Pennland, the Veendam and the Mohawk.

The most dramatic experiences befell the eighty-five passengers of the

THREE GIRLS ARE TRAPPED BY FLAMES

Family Awakened By Roar Of Flames; Parents Make Way To Street Safely

(International News Service)

NEW ALBANY, Miss., May 21.—Three daughters of J. S. Owens, editor of the New Albany Gazette, were burned to death early today, while Mr. and Mrs. Owens narrowly escaped with their lives as their home was swept by fire.

Elizabeth Owens, 18, one of the victims, was to have graduated from New Albany high school next week. Her two sisters, Blake, 16, and Helen, 10, also perished in the flames. The three bodies were recovered.

One month ago today Owen's son, William Owens, 28, died suddenly from acute indigestion.

Cause of the fire was unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Owens were awakened by the roar of the fire and fled to the streets barely in time to save their lives. Efforts to rescue their daughters were in vain.

Caught in a trap while bent on thievery a Golden Eagle has been temporarily imprisoned for its conduct and will be exiled into new territory.

At least that is the decision of game officials here after a Golden Eagle with a wing spread of six feet seven inches was captured by Howard Liscy at Portersville.

According to Deputy Game Warden Frank Johnston, chickens had been missed and Liscy set a steel trap and along came the Golden Eagle which put a foot into the trap.

The big bird was brought to the DETROIT, Mich., May 21.—There's one church in Detroit where painted lips and religion wont mix.

Father Foley, assistant pastor of St. Ambrose church, in Grosse Pointe Park, caused a flutter among feminine attendants at 12:15 o'clock mass yesterday by announcing that, in future, no woman who uses lipstick would be given holy communion from his hands.

"This practice is irreverent and unbecoming and I will not countenance it," Father Foley said.

Senate Leaders Nettled By Tax Reduction Delay

Plan To Adjourn Saturday May Be Postponed If Tax Reduction Is Not Enacted

NIGHT SESSIONS ARE IN PROSPECT

Boulder Dam Bill Also Offers Obstacle To Adjournment; House Is Less Busy

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Facing a stiff fight against their plan to adjourn congress next Saturday, administration leaders settled down today to break the dilatory tactics which have blocked final action on the tax reduction bill for the past two weeks.

The senate met at 10 o'clock, two hours earlier than usual, and it was to be held in session continuously until the tax bill is enacted. If this program is successful, the administration may be able to adjourn next Saturday, but any further delay in passing the tax bill undoubtedly would keep congress in session another week.

Settle Rates Fight.

The actual fight over tax rates has been settled with the adoption of almost all of the administration's tax reduction program. A dozen senators, however, projected extraneous battles by seeking to attach "rider legislation" to the tax bill. The farm bloc tried time and again to attach farm

Bremen Plane Is Badly Damaged In Attempted Flight

Monoplane Bremen Damaged Almost Beyond Repair In Take-Off Attempt Near Greenely

PLANE TOPPLES ABOUT 30 FEET

Neither Fred Melchior, Junkers Expert, Or Two Companions Are Injured

(International News Service)

HALIFAX, N. S., May 21.—Wrecked almost beyond repair in attempting to take off from Blanc Sablon, Labrador, the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen will have to remain there indefinitely until a boat arrives to bring it to New York, advices from Point Armour, Labrador, stated today.

With Fred Melchior, the Junkers expert, at the controls, and Dr. Cuisinier and Mechanic Thibeault accompanying him, the plane rose about 30 feet after a short dash down the runway built at Blanc Sablon and suddenly dropped to the ground.

Neither Melchior nor his companions were hurt. But the entire left side of the plane was badly damaged, as it fell sideways. The reason for its sudden fall has not been ascertained.

Melchior reached the Bremen by dropping in a parachute from one of the army amphibian planes which were to escort the German ship to New York. Cuisinier and the mechanic had been working on the plane for some time.

The army planes were unable to land off Blanc Sablon, which is on the Straits of Belle Isle, because of floating ice. They are now at Pictou, N. S.

Abandon All Hope For Any Trapped In Mather Mine

Fifty-Nine Bodies Are Recovered From Pennsylvania Mine In Disaster

RESCUERS PUSH WAY INTO DEBRIS

Idea Of Fierceness Of Explosion Being Gained As Rescuers Progress

International News Service Staff Correspondent
By REGIS CURRAN

MATHER, Pa., May 21.—With 59 bodies removed from the Mather colliery, which was rocked by an explosion Saturday, weary rescue crews this afternoon dug their way deeper into the debris strewn mine in the hope of recovering the 138 bodies believed still to be in the workings.

Virtually all hope that any of the men will be found alive has been abandoned. Fourteen men were rescued from the mine, but one of these died today in Wanyesburg hospital, bringing the total known and believed dead to 198 men. Officials believe 211 men were in the mine when the explosion, apparently caused by gas, shook the mine.

The work of opening up the nine mine butts sealed by the blast, more than a mile and a half from the shaft, will probably take another day.

About this time, when its half past May, and the sun is working a twelve hour day, when the trees are green and the day is hot, I can't but think of an old time spot. A spot where the elders grew wild and lush, and the spot was lulled with a church-like hush, where the brook rolled on with its chatter of words as it argued the while with the clatter of birds. A spot where the kids used to gather round and on days like these we could all be found, sans clothes, sans shoes, or a bathing suit, for conventions and customs we cared not a hoot. Just a bunch of kids in a sheltered pool, where the day was warm and the world were a league away, and nobody cared how long we'd stay. The scene comes back, does it come to you, when the weather is warm and its eighty-two?

Fireman Killed, Two Injured In Factory Blaze

Fire In Lumber Yard And Feldspar Factory At Toughkenamon, Pa., Is Big Loss

CAUSE OF FIRE IS UNDETERMINED

(International News Service)

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa., May 21.—Raymond Walker, 30, of the West Grove Fire company, was killed early today and two other firemen were injured, one probably fatally, while fighting flames which destroyed the Pennsylvania Feldspar plant and the H. A. Mendenhall lumber yard at Toughkenamon near here. The damage was estimated at $100,000.

Walker was struck by a falling smokestack which crushed him almost beyond recognition. His two companions, Fred Carpenter of Oxford and Daniel T. McGranny of Wilmington also were injured by the smokestack. Carpenter is in a critical condition in the West Grove hospital while McGranny received severe bruises. The other members seeing the falling chimney managed to escape.

Water Pressure Low

Eight different fire companies fought the blaze before it was finally brought under control. The fire was the most spactacular seen in this vicinity for years.

The pottery plant, belonging to Mrs. Robert Jacobs and the lumber yards adjoining, were almost directly opposite the Pennsylvania Railroad station. For a time the station was threatened and a dozen freight cars near the yards.

Lack of water facilities handicapped the firemen. Lines of hose had to be laid for a mile and half to secure sufficient water to fight the blaze.

The origin of the fire has not been determined. A watchman first sighted a small blaze in a pile of lumber and called the fire department of this city but by the time the firemen responded the blaze had spread to several other piles of lumber and additional calls were sent out.

disgust, for at evening when he comes home he always finds the work of the previous evening undone.

While the irresistible urge for color in clothing has been sublimated in most men's minds during the last century, this summer it is blossoming forth in a marked degree. Green ensembles vie with blues, and tans trod where pinks fear to tread. Suits are riots of stripes and bars.

In other things styles for men seem to be harking back to "just after the war" days. Raincoats, multi purpose, are being designed after the familiar officer's "trench coat". And from all reports they are liked.

The work of landscaping the Scottish Rite Cathedral site is continuing. A hedge has been planted in front of the buildings and one of its purposes is to discourage the practice of taking a shortcut. And further to instill the idea that shortcuts are unnecessary and avoidable, the hedge is of barberry.

While in McKeesport Sunday we observed the parade which terminated the three months evangelistic campaign of Evangelist Jones in the Glory Barn. Thousands of men, women and children marched down the street to the tune of "We're Marching to Zion", played by some dozen or more bands. Divine healing is claimed by hundreds at the Glory Barn, and in the parade were seen one or two on crutches or with a limp and a sign or two bearing the words, "I was healed at the Glory Barn". Many a man or woman marched down the street with a babe in their arms, while several tots of four or five years were doing their best to keep up, pulled along by the hand of a mother or older sister.

One does not generally consider the dandelion a beautiful flower when taken individually, but when one sees some of the lawns on the borders of the city covered with a carpet of bright yellow dandelions there is a certain beautiful aspect to the scene. Another point of beauty in the dandelion is to place one of the tiny flowerlets composing the head under a magnifying glass and see what a beautiful lily-like bloom it is.

relief and tariff relief, failing by overwhelming majorities each time. The pending question today was a "rider" proposal by Senator Reed (D) of Missouri, to slash tariff rates in certain manufactured articles. He offered the amendment after the senate rejected by a vote of 13 to 44 a proposal to increase the tariff on farm products.

A farm relief plan, by which the government would refund the transportation costs upon all farm products exported, was offered and beaten by a vote of 14 to 44. The refunds would have been made from customs receipts.

The senate accorded the same treatment to proposals offered in behalf of "big business" and the "millionaire class". An attempt to repeal the inheritance tax was beaten 30 to 43. An effort to reduce the rates was defeated 17 to 52 and a third attempt to repeal the provision, returning most of the tax to the states, was rejected 18 to 51.

Flood Control Enacted.

The biggest legislative problem of the present session—flood control—already is settled and a relief measure reacted into law. The farm relief bill, while enacted by congress, is still in President Coolidge's hands and facing a veto. No effort, however, will be made to pass it over his veto as the bill cannot command the necessary two-thirds vote either in the house or the senate.

On the unfinished program were the Muscle Shoals bill, still in conference; the Boulder dam bill, awaiting action in both house and senate; the big navy bill, passed by the house but pending in the senate; the deficiency appropriation bill, passed by the house but pending in the senate, and literally thousands of minor bills. The latter group, however, will have no effect on the date of adjournment.

The Boulder dam bill offered an obstacle to adjournment. It was opposition to this bill that really was behind the movement to block a vote on the tax bill. Opponents of the bill worked upon the theory that so long as the tax bill was before the senate, no action could be taken on the other measure. Its proponents meanwhile were protesting against adjournment demanding that sufficient time should be allowed to get a vote on their bill.

A week of night sessions was in prospect in the senate while the house faced a less busy future. If the senate can settle its own disputes, the house will be ready to adjourn Saturday.

Japan is continuing to mass troops in the north. It is reported that reinforcements are either on their way or soon will be en route for Tsingtao, Shantung; Tien-Tsin, the port of Peking, and Manchuria.

So far as known the Nationalist government has made no reply to the Japanese note (virtually an ultimatum) that Japan will not tolerate the invasion of Manchuria. The note is still under consideration by the members of the Nanking administration.

R. S. Richards Speaks At Meeting Of Rotary Club At Noon

How the New York Stock Exchange functions was told to the New Castle Rotary club by H. S. Richards of Kay, Richards and company, brokers when they met at noon today in the crystal ballroom of The Castleton. Eighty-four members and their guests were present.

Mr. Richards briefed the history of the exchange from Revolutionary times, told how it started with 24 members and stated that now there are listed some 1,500 issues of bonds and 1,100 issues of stock. He also discussed the activities of the exchange in running down frauds and compared the New York Stock Exchange with those operated in France and England.

William S. Wright of the Civic Concert Service, Chicago, spoke to the Rotarians, telling them of the membership campaign for the New Castle Civic Music association, which will be put on this week.

The club voted to appropriate $200 from the club treasury to cover the expenses of a delegate to the convention of Rotary International, in September. Welty O. Rugh, president-elect of the club, was named as delegate with Frank Burton, vice president-elect, as alternate.

Mrs. Anna Flora Black, widow of Richard Black, died Sunday morning at 3 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Harper of West Pittsburg, after an illness.

Mrs. Black was formerly of Canonsburg, Pa. For the past 14 years she had made her home with her daughter in West Pittsburg. During that time she had made a wide circle of friends. She was a member of the Canonsburg Presbyterian church.

Surviving her are one son, William J. Black of Greenville, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Queer of Newell, W. Va., and Mrs. Emma Harper, wife of Henry Harper, at whose home she died. She also leaves nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday evening, May 22, at 8 o'clock daylight savings time from the Harper home in West Pittsburg. Further services will be held on Wednesday in the Canonsburg Presbyterian church at 2 p. m. Interment will be made in Oak Springs cemetery at Canonsburg.

Mrs. Laura M. Strawhecker.

Mrs. Laura M. Strawhecker, aged 74 years, widow of John Strawhecker, of Scott township died in the New Castle hospital Sunday morning at 10:30 after an illness of five months due to complications.

Mrs. Strawhecker was born in Scott township December 22, 1854, a daughter of Frederick and Susan Richael and had lived her entire life in that community. She was a member of the Harlansburg Baptist church.

She leaves the following children: Clinton, William and Tilton Strawhecker of Scott township, Robert of Washington township, Mrs. Lydia Ruby of Harmony, Pa., Mrs. Olive Pizor of Slippery Rock, Pa., Mrs. Mollie Yoho of Beaver County, Mrs. Elsie Bell of North Liberty.

One brother also survives, Henry Richael of Harlansburg.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, May 22 at 10 a. m. from the Harlansburg Baptist church in charge of Rev. A. J. Dickinson. Interment in Harlansburg cemetery.

Alexander Funeral.

Funeral services of Thomas Edward Alexander, Taylor street, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Jos. S. Rice company Chapel, North street. Rev. A. J. Randles, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, was in charge of the services. The pallbearers were relatives. Interment was made in Finley cemetery, Mercer, Pa.

Time of Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Lena Barthman, wife of Max Barthman, will be conducted Tuesday, May 22, at 2:30 p. m. from the family residence, 1302 Randolph street. Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Bort Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Eliza Jane Bort took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Eichler on Quest street. Rev. F. E. Stough, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, officiated. The ladies of the Service Star Legion attended in a body. On Sunday the body was taken to Conneaut, O., where further services were conducted in the Marcy funeral chapel with Rev. McKay in charge. Mrs. A. J. Whipple and Mrs. F. W. Stuckey sang during the services. The pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased. Interment was made in East Conneaut cemetery.

tended. The procession was headed by Chief Charles Lynn, Mayor William H. Gillespie and Councilman Clayton H. Reeves.

Rev. C. J. Williamson, the pastor of the church delivered the message of the service and his address was such that it held his audience spellbound from the start to the finish. He said that every activity of life was directed in putting out a conflagration of some kind and that the firemen along with the other people were engaged in preventing the conflagration, sometimes of one kind and sometimes of another.

The special music was a feature of the service and was also greatly injoyed.

STATE PATROL WARN AUTOISTS

Parking Contrary To Law Near Kegarise Field, Police Say

Following an accident which occurred about five miles from this city on the New Wilmington highway Sunday, Private McDermott today served a warning to motorists which may go a long way to ward eliminating auto accidents.

He stated that cars are being parked near the Kegarise field not in accordance with the state motor law.

The law calls for 15 feet clearance and motorists are parking with two wheels off the highway.

As the highway is only 16 feet wide it is impossible to park there according to law.

Traffic has been hampered in the past and McDermott said today he plans to make arrests should the cars not be parked according to law.

Resume Probe Of Pittsburgh Vice Conditions Today

Seven Hundred Persons Under Subpoena In Federal Investigation

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—With a list of seven hundred persons under subpoena to appear before it, the federal grand jury today resumed its investigation into liquor traffic in Pittsburgh.

More than 500 persons already have faced the grand jury in eight days and several night sessions. Although secrecy has been maintained, it is understood the probe is checking alleged relations between politicians and bootleggers in the western Pennsylvania metropolis.

Federal officials could give no inkling of when the grand jury investigation is to be concluded, but they indicated that witnesses from every section of the city will be examined.

ONE ISSUE REMOVED FROM POLITICS

MISSISSIPPI flood control is now assured. With the signature of the bill sent him by congress, President Coolidge has removed what might have been a decidedly disturbing issue from the coming campaign. The best of it is that apparently no strings have been left.

The president insisted upon steering a straight course and actually brought congress to his feet. He did not get all that he wanted, but he did obtain a fair and square measure and the outcome apparently is very generally acceptable.

There was great danger that flood control would run wild; that the government would be committed to immense expenditures variously estimated up to a billion and one-half dollars. For such a menace the president could not possibly stand. After several conferences with representatives of both congressional bodies, he secured limitations. The government will expend $325,000,000 for levees and for floodways and spillways intended as diversion channels. The states will furnish the land required for levee foundations. In the construction of floodways and spillways the government will assume responsibility only for damage to lands not previously subjected to floods.

It was a heated controversy that raged from the beginning of this congress. Fortunately common sense has prevailed at the demand of a president who insists upon common-sense methods of administering public affairs. So all's well that ends well.

PROSPERITY STRAWS

FOR several years there have been four fundamentals of American prosperity so truly basic in character that general business has improved or declined about in proportion as their combined contributions have been favorable or unfavorable. These factors are the condition of ease and availability of credit [illegible]modations, and the state of three fundamental businesses—[illegible]obiles, steel and iron, and building construction.

[illegible]redit accommodations at the present time are reasonably [illegible]ctory. Interest rates are at fairly reasonable levels. Credit [illegible]lable for business uses on easy terms. The steel and iron [illegible]y is enj ying prosperity. It is well known that the auto- industry is humming along at a more than average rate, [illegible] it anticipates still better business as the summer advances. [illegible] building construction, the volume since the first of the year [illegible]n larger than the optimistic had predicted.

[illegible]o these pleasing omens might be added the activities of the stock market. Wall street evidently is confident of good times ahead, and is not alone in that opinion. The present market certainly indicates improved business.

TOO MUCH FOOD

EXPERTS representing the Gorgas Memorial Foundation have issued a bulletin warning the American people they are eating too much food and repeating the old saying that more graves are dug with teeth than with shovel and pick.

These experts say that as prosperity has become more general the people have increased their eating of rich food. The dinner of a dozen courses, popular three decades ago, no longer is in favor, but people often are sadly overfed. The experts warn that overeating shortens life and increases ill health and is quite the most costly fad the public can find.

Overeating loads the body with surplus fat, which interferes with normal conditions and produces a burden for the bodily organs. Hardly less damaging than overeating is the eating of unbalanced diets, providing no normal support for the body, overloading one part, undernourishing another, and forcing the development of serious organic troubles. Too much sugar is one more sin of appetite, and against that the Gorgas experts make positive statements that the people would be much healthier if they reduced their use of sugar largely.

As scientific foundation for their preachment for less food the scientists declare it is now positively known that merely eating an abundance of food is not the right way or the best way to insure and maintain bodily health and strength. What is needed is simple food, in balanced quantities, with repression in operation on the appetite at all meals.

'TIS LIFE BEYOND.

I watched a sail until it dropped from sight
Over the rounding sea. A gleam of white,
A last far-flashed farewell and, like a thought
Slipt out of mind, it vanished and was not.

Yet to the helmsman standing at the wheel
Broad seas still stretched beneath the gliding keel.
Disaster? Change? He felt no slightest sign,
Nor dreamed he of that far horizon line.

So may it be, perchance, when down the tide
Our dear ones vanish. Peacefully they glide
On level seas, nor mark the unknown bound.
We call it death—to them 'tis life beyond.

A great effort is to be made, but we do not know by whom to get congress to adjourn May 26. A motion to adjourn is always in order so congress has the power itself any time it wants to exercise it. Anyhow we hope some one gets it adjourned.

But even if it were possible to make both ends meet a man would experience considerable difficulty in making them dovetail.

In some precincts in Chicago it was found after investigation after the recent election in that city there were fewer votes than the returns indicated. A little thing like that should not worry Chicagoans. In many places even here in this congressional district are told that enough votes can be had to elect just as soon as it is found out how many are needed. At a price of some kind of course no doubt.

So far as we are aware we've never seen a man run amuck. But then we've never seen the galled jade wince either. We guess we haven't seen much.

It is stated as a rumor of course that the air express may be absorbed by the railroads. The railroads sure will have to absorb something if the new means of travel do not stop developing. Such a thing as making the railroads more attractive as a means of travel perhaps has not occurred to the railroads. Dirty cars and delays have much to do with people staying off the railroads. If we had a railroad we would not try and act peeved but would give some real service.

It costs far less to put a criminal to death than it does to support him in the penitentiary for life. This may seem more or less brutal but consider. Is it just to force honest, law-abiding hard-working citizens to pay for food clothing and shelter for worthless burdens to humanity? Could not the money that would be spent to support these criminals be better used to teach our children to be loyal, trustworthy, God-fearing citizens? Could not this money be put to better advantage in making life a little brighter for the poor cripples, mutes blind, etc., who, through no fault of their own are in suffering and poverty? Does civilization consist in supporting malicious vultures who prey on human life while loyal citizens go in want? Only a fool could call that civilization.

In New Castle it has been advocated by some that no attention should be paid to party lines in voting for local offices. In some cases this may have been a good thing. However, this custom has grown so much that voters are now exercising that same privilege in voting in state and national affairs. Sullivan and Mulcahy.
Ford's Busy Day.
Paul Revere's Horse.
Automobile's Booming.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

DETROIT, Mich., May 21.—Self-confidence usually means success. When John L. Sullivan met the Prince of Wales, grandfather of today's Prince, Jem Smith, heavyweight champion of England, was present and in training to fight Kilrain.

Sullivan, who was to box for the Prince's delegation with his sparring partner, Jack Ashton, said to the Prince:

"Your English champion is here, trained to fight. I'm just off the boat and fat. Tell your champion to get into that ring with me. If I don't knock him out in two rounds, I'll go back to America."

The Prince was delighted, but Jem Smith's manager said "No."

A fight with no gate money, and with Sullivan, had no appeal. So Sullivan boxed with Ashton, Jem Smith boxed with old Alf Greenfield. The Prince, and this writer, the only newspaperman there, were disappointed.

Detroit feels about Detroit as Sullivan felt about himself. Joseph Mulcahy, who was born in New York, and now edits the Detroit Times, says, with perfect seriousness:

"Detroit, today, is what New York was 25 years ago. Fifty years from now men will be saying, 'New York is what Detroit was 25 years ago.' "

Every day is Henry Ford's busy day, but Friday was unusually busy. He arrived in the morning to greet the Bremen fliers, who saw his plant, and had luncheon with Edsel Ford, head of the committee to receive them.

Then Ford welcomed Junkers, who built the Bremen, and talked engineering with him. "A fine product of Germany's thorough training methods", Ford called Junkers.

At four o'clock in the afternoon Ford was talking with Gen. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad. Perhaps they discussed the combination sleeping car and airplane transcontinental service, announced by the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe.

Just beyond Ford's Dearborn office Gen. Atterbury might have seen actual air transportation on the Ford flying field.

A neat, new station has been built for arriving and departing air passengers, and a big Ford plane, having just brought a full load from Cleveland, was waiting to carry another load in the other direction.

If you ask Ford about his flying plans, he says, "Ask Edsel, he is looking after that."

But Ford is deeply interested in flying, and sells his tri-motor planes for $30,000, less than each one costs to build. Profits with volume will come later.

Ford says that for the moment "flying has come up against a stone wall, and some big things need to be done." He may undertake to do one or two of them, although he does not say so.

All Detroit cheered the Bremen fliers, and nobody except Ford paid much attention to Junkers, who built the Bremen and made the flight possible.

Asked if that did not seem unjust, Ford replied, "Well, somebody asked the other day, 'Did you ever hear of anybody that knew the name of Paul Revere's horse?' "

The automobile industry is booming as never before. Chrysler expects to make the world sit up, with his new car, the "Desota". Florida will like that name.

General Motors, in July, will produce a new Buick, for which you are politely requested to wait. Mr. Knudson, president of General Motors' Chevrolet, says that car is selling one hundred and thirty thousand odd cars a month.

The young Ford factory driver, shooting you through traffic in a new Ford Model A, shows you that the car can do 40 miles an hour in second speed, and believing that three negatives make an effective affirmative, says:

"In the beginning everybody tried to get away faster than this car, to show it up. But they don't never nobody try to do it now. They just give you the road." Saying which, he risked your life, once more, scooting between two heavy trucks.

Carry a cheerful thought to Sunday morning. This country is really rich, plenty of opportunity to make up for anything that may have happened to you in Wall Street in the last day or two.

Stocks listed on the big exchange were worth, at market price, read carefully the pleasant figures, fifty-four billion, eight hundred and eighteen millions, nine hundred and twenty-five thousand, eight hundred and sixty dollars.

And that does not include stocks listed on the curb exchange, or not listed anywhere, or the gigantic wealth outside of corporations.

Brokers' loans, not quite five billions, are less than nine per cent of the big exchange stock values. How foolish to make a fuss about those loans.

But don't gamble.

"A professor in the University of Wisconsin says—" was as far as he got in a recent story and there we stopped. Anything a professor in the University of Wisconsin may say doesn't interest us particularly because the University is as much a part of the La Follette political machine as the most humble ward heeler.

INTERNATIONAL GOOD WILL DAY

Monday, May 21st, is the first anniversary of Lindbergh's landing in Paris.

Lindbergh inaugurated a new kind of diplomacy on his epoch-making flight from New York to Paris and he was heartily welcomed by a friendly people.

When he visited the South American countries he was equally acclaimed by them. Wherever he has gone he has been received as a messenger of peace and good will among peoples.

It is no exaggeration to say that his visits to these various countries have done more for the good feeling of the peoples of the various nations than anything that has happened for centuries.

We cannot too often emphasize every occasion to cement the friendship which binds us to other nations. This is our best reliance in time of war or trouble. The best defense of any nation is its friendships and good will with other nations.

The president has referred to Lindbergh as "an illustrious citizen, a conqueror of the air and strengthener of the ties which bind us to our sister nations across the sea."

It is an occasion well worthy of an anniversary and worthy to be recognized in some form commensurate with its vital importance.

The building of an air force of any country should be looked upon as an institution of friendship and not of hostility toward other countries. Rapid and efficient transportation is the best means for breaking down the bars of provincialism with which certain minds are always seeking to surround their nation.

Colonel Lindbergh's exploit was not that of an American citizen so much as of a human being that might have been born anywhere, and his daring deed appeals to the adventurous and youthful of all lands, and all should be invited to share in making this celebration of the anniversary and of his exploit an occasion of good will.

Tomorrow—Quick Justice.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THERE'S THE IDLE RICH

The Secretary of Labor of the United States is a man who has been identified with the organized labor of the Nation all his life. He may have opinions which do not at all times coincide with Capitalists' dreams, but he generally has both of his substantial feet planted firmly on the ground.

The malcontents, political and otherwise, of this Country, have been preaching the Doctrines of Discontent at all times and in all places. Just now the political "Outs" have been using ammunition borrowed from this undesirable class of citizenry and have proclaimed that more than five million men and women in the United States are idle. The idleness of which they speak, they further allege is due to vicious Capitalists identified with the political "Ins".

Secretary Davis comes along and says, "Yes, there is some unemployment, but the condition is not due to faulty business manangement, nor yet to business depression, but to the inventive genius of the country. Machinery has been devised and put into operation which does the work of the, at present, jobless man, by mechanical instead of human effort." The Secretary made this statement to the members of the Foremen's Club at York, Pennsylvania, on April 25th.

Mr. Davis further said that the present period of unemployment is simply another of those temporary seasons when people displaced by new machinery must be carried over until they can find new jobs or until the normal development of industry offers them new opportunities in new industries.

Nothing ever said was truer. Political Economists, good, bad and indifferent, have always admitted that with the advent of every new mechanical invention many workmen had to hunt new employments. The wise Economists have used the word "Emancipated" in this connection, meaning that the workmen might improve his condition in life, being freed from routine toil. The Pessimists have always talked about the ruin caused by new machines and new methods.

Two English travelers on their first trip to this Country have taken a different slant at the situation.

"Peculiar," remarked one of them, "I see stories in the papers about the automobile industry operating at capacity, steel production at a new high April record, tire business thriving, farmers prospering, electric companies doing a record business, chain stores showing big gains, copper sales at new high record, bankers selling $500,000,000 of new securities monthly, record Stock Exchange transactions, record gasoline consumption, etc., and then on the first pages there are dispatches from Washington that tell us that business is depressed, with millions unemployed."

"Does seem strange," replied his fellow tourist, "but you know this is a very prosperous country, and the Washington unemployment statistics may include the idle rich."

THESE YOUNGSTERS

If I thought the younger generation was going to the devil, I would be very much concerned. I have two small daughters who will be in the younger generation in a few years. If I believed the influences into which they are about to grow were wicked and terrible and demoralizing, I would feel that I ought to do something about it. Perhaps I would write a novel like "Heavy Laden," or go on the stump or into the pulpit to cry out against the sins of youth.

But I can't seem to get excited about it. I know young people of almost all ages and of both sexes, in many parts of the North American continent. I have talked to high school and college students, singly, severally, and in large groups, and I can't see anything wrong with them. They are younger, yes. But that is a condition I envy them frankly. I don't hide my envy and make it ferment into intolerance.

Now take this novel I mentioned, "Heavy Laden." It is by a young man named Philip Wylie, who has adopted, for pseudo-literary purposes, an attitude of loathing and contempt for all humanity. He tells the reader, in direct and inelegant language that he, the writer, hates him, the reader. He expresses a superior disgust as his reaction to the sight of the human race. Then he puts down rows and rows of vulgar words, apparently for the joy of seeing them in print.

All this is quite sophomoric, and even a trifle adolescent. I do not know Mr. Wylie at all, but I hope to learn that is is not more than fifteen years old. If he is even sixteen and a half, there is much hope for him. He writes rather easily, and his English is not bad. When he grows up and learns that human beings are really quite nice, he will be in a fair way to crave out a career for himself as a writer.

Mr. Wylie's theme is the daughter who is not understood by her father. The daughter goes to college and lives a dissolute existence, drinking and carousing and generally carrying on in a way to make readers turn the pages rapidly. The old-fashioned father seems a bit bewildered by the young lady's conduct, so the daughter shows him she can do much worse than that. And there's your plot.

Well, that's all right for an honest effort to make one's first novel a best-seller. But as a picture of life it's not so good.

Young people are not old people, of course, and neither is the young generation of today living precisely like the young generation of yesterday. But these adolescent writers who picture the college folk of today as a harum-scarum lot of drunken sots afflict me. I know better. The boys and girls are still pretty good risks.

Guffey Group Is Victorious

John R. Collins New State Chairman Of Democratic Party

STATE SESSION IS LIVELY GATHERING

By C. B. YORKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 21.—With Sedgwick Kistler of Lock Haven as the new national committeeman, and John R. Collins of Coudersport as the new state chairman, Pennsylvania Democrats today were looking back on Saturday's stormy session of the senate committee here.

After more than four hours of arguments, charges and counter charges and denials of bi-partisanship, these two leaders were chosen by the committee. Mrs. Anna O'Dea Murphy, member of the Scranton registration board, was chosen as national committeewoman, while Mrs. Katherine E. Flohr of Lehigh county was selected as state vice chairman.

The election of officers for the next two years was generally conceded to be a victory for the group led by Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh, who retired as national committeeman.

The Guffey group was opposed by the faction led by Municipal Court Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell and Lewis C. Cassidy, Jr., of Philadelphia, who charged that Democrats in that city and Pittsburgh were alligned with the Republican organization.

When Congressman Everett Kent of Bangor took the floor and named those who were alleged to be connected with the Vare organization in Philadelphia and the Mellon group in Pittsburgh, pandemonius gripped the meeting as denials were shouted as loudly as the charges.

Order was finally restored by Retiring State Chairman Cornelius Hagarty, Jr., and both the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia delegations were allowed to be seated. The elections proceeded with none of the heated controversy that had occupied the early hours of the meeting.

Recognition Service For Graduates At Reformed Church

Eight Young People Guests Of Congregation At Service Sabbath Evening

Eight young men and women, graduates of college and high school were special guests of the Reformed Presbyterian church of this city of which they are members, at an attractive recognition service Sunday evening.

The pastor, Dr. E. A. Crooks delivered a masterly address taking for his theme the life of Moses. He spoke of Moses as a type of preparation for life's service; his birth and environment in which he was raised and his being educated in all the learning in Egypt.

Dr. Crooks dwelt on the divine providence that surrounds every life. He emphasized the importance of an education and the great facilities that are in reach of every student to obtain one at the present day. The choice of every student's life work is also a paramount issue, the pastor said.

The young people who are this year's graduates include the following: Homer Allen and James S. Stewart, Jr., from Geneva College and Dorothy Jean Wallace, Dorothy Riley, Jacob Paul, William Henry and Harold Grossman from the New Castle high school and Miss Charlotte Burgess from the Shenango Valley hospital.

The college and high school students were presented with books and Miss Burgess with a nurse's thermometer. The presentation speech was made by Dr. James Blackwood.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

violinist now comes back from a world tour and says America is the real place of music and musicians.

"America" he says, 'leads the world in all forms of musical activities. We have left Germany far behind. We not only have the best orchestras and the best concertists, but we have men who write excellent music."

This, from one who knows is quite an answer to the cult of the anti-Americans.

NON-THINKERS.

Count Keyserling one of many who have come from abroad to tell us what's the matter with our country, returns to Europe with the remark that Americans are not yet thinkers although in time he believes they may become rational. Of course the human being wherever he lives is not much to given to thinking. He really doesn't have to think, relying chiefly on instincts with which he is amply and intensely supplied. But the brand of thinking in America is about as sound and clear, what there is of it as that of any other place.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX.

Americans are frequently accused of being egotistic. Foreigners sometimes tell us we have a superior complex. A French girl writing to the Chicago Daily News perhaps comes nearer the truth when she says Americans realy have an inferiority complex. Most of us over here come to believe, because we hear it so often, that imported goods are the best. English tweed is the real thing. German universities are the best in the world our doctors must study in Vienna; our musicians must go abroad; French bread is better than American bread and imported Christmas cards and automobiles are the finest. We pay more for poor Swiss cheese made in Switzerland and pay less for excellent Swiss cheese made in New York or Wisconsin. To feel the way we do about many kinds of foreign goods is partly a pose and partly mere ignorance.

Our daily temptation lest we become too confident of our strength.
Our daily sorrow lest we lose sympathy with the rest of the world.
Our daily hunger that life may not grow monotonous.
Our daily laughter lest we take ourselves too seriously.
Our daily burden lest life shall have no purpose.
Our daily difficulties, lest life grow stale in our hands.

Just Folks

SUCCESS

Success is doing something well,
It's winning faith and trust,
Despite what theorists may tell
It's doing what you must.
It's giving all the best of you
To every task you have to do.

Success is not the gift of luck
When rightly understood,
It's keeping on with grit and pluck
To make your service good.
It's keeping honest, when you meet
An easy chance to play the cheat.

Success is in the will to be
On friendly terms with men
It's in little things they'll see
When next you meet again.
For nothing ever lives so long
Or works such havoc as a wrong.

Who gives his best to every task,
Who keeps the faith with all,
For friends will never have to ask
Or for assistance call.
But who with any trust does less
Will never be a real success.

State Extends Welfare Work

Maternity And Infancy Welfare Work Done In Every County Of State

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 21. — Pennsylvania extended its maternity and infancy welfare work to every county in the State last year, and established 37 new, permanent child-health centers during the year.

This increase of four in the number of child-health centers and of 14 in the number of counties doing maternity and infancy work during the fiscal year 1927 is reported by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, which is preparing for publication its annual report of the administration of the maternity and infancy act.

The work in Pennsylvania differs somewhat from that in some other states since, the report says, on account of its large industrial population, plans had to be developed for the administration of maternity and infancy funds to meet the needs of industrial and urban communities as well as rural districts.

Maternal and infant welfare had been promoted in Pennsylvania by the development of a state-wide nursing service in which nurses are paid from maternity and infancy funds for visits to mothers and babies, and by the development of health centers supported by the State and of centers supported by local communities to which advisory service is given by staff nurses and physicians.

All the 67 counties in the State had maternity and infancy work during the year under review, as compared with 43 counties the previous year. At the close of the year, two of the eleven communities in which county or community nurses had been paid from Federal, state and local funds for this work, had assumed entire financial responsibility and one community assumed a greater proportion of the expense than formerly.

Altogether 25,767 child health conferences were held during the year by the state staff and local physicians, at which over 48,000 infants and pre-school children were examined; and 5,357 prenatal conferences to which 68,000 visits were made and at which more than 16,000 women were examined. The number of home visits by nurses to give instruction relating to prenatal, infant, and child care totaled more than 87,000.

"The results of this work are evident in the decrease in maternal and infant mortality which has taken place during the period of Pennsylvania's cooperation under the Federal maternity and infancy act."

The report says the average death rate among women from causes associated with child birth during the period 1917-1921 (exclusive of 1918, the influenza year), prior to the operation of the act, was 69.7 per 10,000 live births for the state as a whole, 82.8 for the urban and 56.6 for the rural areas. The average rates for the period of cooperation, 1922 to 1926 inclusive, were 63.9 for the state, 50.4 for the urban and 47.2 for the rural areas, a percentage decrease of 8.3 for the state, 2.9 for the urban and 16.6 for the rural districts.

The average infant mortality rate for the period of cooperation under the maternity and infancy act was 14.8 per cent lower than that for the period before cooperation; in urban areas the difference amounted to 15.4 per cent as compared with 14.1 per cent in the rural areas, according to the statistics in the report.

The maternity and infancy act expires June 30, 1929.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

ORIOLE PLAYS A JOKE

Mr. Oriole who it seemed could not control his feelings very well went off into another gust of twittering that shook the twig on which he stood. Then suddenly he sobered up.

"I was thinking how mad the farmer is going to be this summer when I peck holes in the grapes and show the wasps the way into the heart of the plums. When he comes out to scold me I shall drop a plum pit spang—right down on the top of his head. Ha! Ha! He! He! It makes me laugh to think of it."

Mother Flame-Wing joined Mr. Oriole's glee, and took up the tale of Oriole pranks where the gentleman bird left off.

"I flew off with some bits of bright thread that the farmer's wife had laid on the porch beside her, and you should have heard her. She tried to seize me, but of course I was too quick. I heard her cry, 'That saucy bird has carried off my last bit of thread. Now I shall have to buy a whole new skein just to finish embroidering this flower.'

"Oh, it was rare sport to have her chasing me. Poor thing. I really felt sorry for her. As if she could hope to catch me when she had no wings."

"Why, you big tease, you!" Peter laughed at the tales the two told. "I should think you would make the farmer mad."

"But for all that, he likes us. What if we do make holes in a few old grapes or plums or eat young green peas once in a while. We more than make up for that by the insects we kill.

"We Orioles fly to the very top of the trees and we dig out all the hateful, harmful grubs that the other birds don't find. As for the caterpillars we destroy—why, we couldn't possibly count them. Farmer knows that in spite of the pranks we sometimes play that we are his good friends after all. Then, besides, we are such beautiful rascals that he can't bear to hurt us. I heard him say that himself."

"I do believe the crowd is going home," cried Mother Oriole, suddenly. "I want to hear what they thought about the window." Without another word off she flew to the neighboring branch, and in her wake followed Mr. Oriole.

Perspiration odor . . . quickly kills popularity

How millions keep perspiration odorless

HOWEVER attractive or charming we may otherwise be, we can never hope to amount to anything socially—if we're guilty of perspiration odor. The faintest suggestion of odor brands us as careless, makes us unacceptable.

Thus, it's well for everybody to be on guard—always. Even if we don't seem to perspire at all, our millions of pores are constantly giving off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of odor-causing waste a day.

The offender never knows

And very often, we may be guilty—without knowing it. For our own sense of smell becomes deadened to familiar odors

Yet there's no excuse for risking this unpardonable offense now. Millions already know this delightful way to keep safe—Lifebuoy. Just wash and bathe regularly with this purifying toilet soap—it deodorizes—keeps perspiration odorless.

Lifebuoy's bland and abundant antiseptic lather also guards health by removing germs. Benefits complexions, too—keeps them clear, fresh, glowingly healthy.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENE RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

Footnotes of Beauty.

It is a source of everlasting amazement to me to realize that the people who should exhibit poise and unself-consciousness in their foot movements, never do—they are always visibly aware of their feet! And the ones who ought to forget them, for a moment, are just the people who permit these appendages to fall into the most awkward poses, the most ridiculous positions!

Awkward feet are prevalent, and, strange as it may seem, there is usually nothing wrong at all with the feet themselves, the onus of blame rests on what we do with them and frequently what we don't do that we should!

In this era of brevity in skirts, your positions are frankly visible. Hoop skirts may have disguised bad sitting positions, and ungainly postures, but today your must depend on your own virtues—or the lack of them—without benefit of ruffles and petticoats and pantalettes!

It is anything but lovely to see a woman "sprawling" over a chair. An awkward draped leg, one foot this way and the other that, is not in the least conducive to beauty or grace. The composite effect is both awkward and angular.

I have often wondered what would happen if suddenly the concealing table cloths in a public dining room were swept away. What kind of leg positions would we see? How very, very few there would be that were actually correct. For there is only one correct position for your feet to take when you are seated, you know. They should be flat on the floor—and certainly not crossed at the knee—slightly turned out at the toe and evenly, reposefully straight before you. Maintaining correct foot postures at all times seems a little enough thing to do, but the fact remains it is rarely done. How often have you stumbled over an outstretched foot or an extended, crossed leg in a public vehicle?

Do you suppose that if the offender could guess how very rude she was to be sitting in such a position she would continue to do it? I don't.

I think perhaps people forget. Or that they're too tired or too busy to pay attention to the small, important graces and courtesies of life.

But women must not forget. Their charm, their loveliness depends on maintaining their own standards whatever else happens to the world. And surely the standard of consistent loveliness—of gracious manners—is an excellent one to uphold. Have you ever seen women of the prolonged awkward age? Women who curl a foot underneath them with a cheerful and very thoughtless disregard for appearance? Women who toe in like the proverbial duck? Do you realize that it's only a habit with them, a most unfortunate inability to picture themselves as they appear to others? All of these things, the ills in others, may help you to see and correct your own foot faults. Your feet are part of the living symphony of your body.

They are not two-all-at-an-angle-additions stuck on to your physical structure. Cultivate your acquaintance with them. Pay them the compliment of pretty shoes and teach them to do their duty in adding to Beauty's ensemble.

BLAZE IN MINE IS NOW UNDER CONTROL

MASONTOWN, Pa., May 21.—Fire reported in the workings of the Alicia mine, near here, was under control early today after the workings were flooded with water.

There were no men in the mine when fire was discovered. Damage was not extensive.

Neuritis Misery And Rheumatism Ended By Konjola

MR. E. J. LOWRY

Scurr Photo

The high praise the people of New Castle are giving Konjola proves conclusively the unusual merit of this medicine. It is a fact that unless a medicine does all that is claimed for it, reliable persons will not indorse it. Local people are highly publishing signed statements of men and women in this city and surrounding territory, describing the remarkable gains obtained through the use of Konjola. It is a recognized fact that this advanced medicine rectifies normal and healthy action to the important functionary organs of the body, thereby producing new health, energy and glorious vitality. As the largest list of local people who testify to the above facts, is Mr. Evans E. Lowry, R. 302 Liberty Street, Mahoningtown, Pa., New Castle, who made the following statement to the Konjola Man at the Lowe and Megown drug store, 201 East Washington street, this city, where he is explaining the merits of Konjola.

"Neuritis is terrible," said Mr. Lowry, "I was suffering for a long time, almost every day, and Konjola was the only medicine that really ended the awful pains so that they never returned.

"My arms and shoulders were affected so that I could hardly raise my hand to my face. Even the weight of clothing hurt me and that can be more easily understood when I say that my whole body seemed affected with rheumatism. The aches and pains were so bad that at times I thought I could not stand them any longer. This condition was made all the worse by constipation which allowed vast quantities of poisons to gather in my system. Because of this I was subject to awful headaches all during the day. Even at night I didn't get any relief and I never enjoyed a complete night's sleep. Very often I would have to get up several times due to weak kidneys. My whole system was in a weak and rundown condition and worst of all I never seemed to find a medicine to help me.

"But Konjola was entirely different in my case. It helped me about the third bottle and I noticed the pains were easing up. Before long I felt sure that I would soon be entirely well, so I kept on taking Konjola and now I am making this indorsement which speaks for itself. It is an honest one, too. I am free of all the dreadful aches and pains I was suffering so long. My arms and shoulders never hurt me and I am wonderful relief from the constipation. My nerves are strong and I sleep fine at night because my kidneys are regular and perfect condition. You may be sure I do not come and Konjola always gives me free and active bowel movements. It seem to have restored my health so I can do my work. I can't say enough to why the people of New Castle are praising Konjola and for what this medicine has done to increase so I am glad to tell others what it has done for me."

The Konjola Man is now at the Lowe and Megown drug store, 201 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public, demonstrating and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Glee Society Has Banquet

Two Hundred Fifty Gather At Annual Event Here On Saturday

MANY TAKE PART IN FINE PROGRAM

A glorious past of 31 years and a promising future in the years to come was indicated in the annual banquet and reunion of present and past members of the New Castle Glee society, held Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the east dining room of the Scottish Rite cathedral.

Never before in the history of the organization had there been so great a throng, and it was also the first occasion of this kind at which the ladies, wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts have had the privilege of participating.

There were visitors from Youngstown, Aliquippa, Wierton, Mansfield, O., and many other points, all with few exceptions being former members of the society and former residents of this city.

A sumptuous course dinner was served by the ladies of the Woman's Welsh club. While the dinner was in progress, there were periods during which pep singing was the order. It was spontaneous and it did not take a director to make the place resound with sweet music.

Attended by 250.

There were approximately 250 in attendance Saturday night. The banquet tables filled the greater portion of the east dining room and were made attractive by the use of decorations of yellow and green.

Included among the speakers of the evening were Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Judge James A. Chambers, Paul Browne Patterson, Fred L. Rentz and D. J. Jones of Ellwood City.

Musical numbers were many and wonderfully rendered, including solos by John Taranlais Thomas of Mansfield, O.; Mrs. Brownwen James of Aliquippa, Arthur Eynon of Pittsburgh, one of the best known concert singers in this section. That the numbers being rendered were thoroughly appreciated was indicated by the prolonged applause and the encore numbers given.

Harry T. Jones, president of the society, assumed the chairmanship duties and called upon the assembled throng to sing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." This was followed by an invocation by Rev. Emrys Thomas.

The dinner over, a period was devoted to the singing of old Welsh hymns. These numbers were directed by past and present members and leaders of the society. Cym Rhondda was rendered under the leadership of John Taranlais Thomas, Maergwyn with Llewellyn Jones leading, Cor Caersalem with Arthur Eynon as director, Huddersfield with David West leading and Diadem with Mrs. Bronwen James as director.

President Jones than stated that he was proud to be present at an event of this character sponsored by the oldest musical organization of the community, stating that the society had had a continuous existence since 1897. He also expressed his pleasure at seeing so many former members and old friends. He then introduced Attorney George W. Muse as toastmaster.

Attorney Muse, noted for his wit, carried out the details of the evening's program with skill.

The program was then under way with Mrs. D. B. Jones and Mrs. Isaac James, both of Aliquippa, rendering a duet, "In the Dusk of Twilight," Gordon Jones acted as accompanist.

An Appreciation.

Paul Browne Patterson was called on and told of his appreciation of what the Welsh people had done in keeping good music alive in this community. He said that it was their friendly spirit and inherited love of things musical that had helped keep this city enjoying the better type of music.

Arthur Eynon of Pittsburgh, known as one of the sweetest tenors in this section of the country, rendered "My Dream" and "Fat Little Fellow With His Mammy's Eyes".

Judge Hildebrand when called upon expressed his pleasure. He said he had listened with interest to the singing, with its attendant enthusiasm, and said that it was hard to calculate the influence of the society on this community. He said that a people who enjoyed good music and are inspired by it as the Welsh people are, could not help but be the good citizens that they are.

Judge James A. Chambers told of how he could lay some claim to being Welsh through a grandmother, but admitted that he had first gained his idea of music in hearing John Taranlais Thomas many years ago in the rendition of Brian Boru.

Thomas Sings.

John Taranlais Thomas of Mansfield, O., then rendered two numbers, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Mordical Humphreys. The selections were "Anchored" and "The Wolf". He showed all the old time fire and vim of the period of his residence here and his selections were received with a great manifestation of uproarious applause.

Mr. and Mrs. Mordical Humphreys of Youngstown, O., sang "My Dear" with Edwin Lewis as accompanist.

Fred L. Rentz expressed his pleasure in being present, stating that he dearly loved to hear the Welsh people sing. He said that the Welsh were not only good tin makers but that their singing was such as to put new life into the community. He said that his only claim to being Welsh was the fact that he enjoyed the good music they were capable of producing.

The reading, "The Leak in the Dike", was then presented in an effective manner by Griff Thomas.

The Bachelor Song by W. F. Jones with Elwin Lewis as accompanist, followed.

Llewellyn Jones, for many years a prominent tin worker and resident of this city, spoke most interestingly of the glee society. He said he was one of the oldest living members of the society, recalling how 31 years ago he had taken part in the first competition with the society. He then stated that he had spent half his life in the pleasant associations of the society. He then asked how many were present who had participated in the same competition 31 years ago and the hands raised showed there were six in all, including Mr. Jones.

These six members of the society who have been singing with it for 31 years are D. O. Davies, Llewellyn Jones, W. H. Lewis, Fred Williams, Harry Ayers and W. A. Davies.

Mrs. Bronwen James of Aliquippa followed with two selections, "May Morning" and "Coming Home", with Prof. Wilbur Knight as accompanist.

Police Chief Speaks.

H. L. Brooks, chief of police of Wierton, W. Va., a man of gigantic stature and a singer of ability, was then called upon. He expressed his regret at being unable to sing, owing to a throat affection. He was requested to stand up that all might know him. He towered over everything, being six feet three inches in height and weighing 285 pounds. He has been broadcasting bass solos overe WEAF and KDKA for some time.

D. J. Jones of Ellwood City then spoke briefly, expressing his pleasure at being present and bearing the best wishes of Thomas Edwards, former resident, who is now in California, to the gathering.

Mrs. D. B. Jones then rendered "In the Garden of Your Heart." This was followed by the solo, "Songs My Mother Taught Me", from the Gypsy Melodies by Mrs. David B. Johns of Aliquippa.

Arthur Eynon of Pittsburgh, who a short few years ago, was a coal miner in Wales, and is now recognized as one of the leading tenors of this district, was recalled by request and rendered "A Dream" and "Three Green Bonnets". Miss Kathryn Lewis acted as his accompanist.

Present and former members of the glee society assembled in the front of the hall and with David West directing and Miss Kathryn Lewis, the society accompanist, at the piano, rendered "Comrades in Arms", "Martyrs of the Arena" and "Good Night, My Love," with all the vim and pleasing resonance for which the society has been noted all these years.

The assemblage then rendered "America", after which benediction was rendered by Rev. Emrys Thomas and one of the happiest occasions in the history of the society was at an end.

Among those present at the banquet Saturday night were the following persons:—D. O. Davies, Clayton H. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rentz, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browne Patterson, Rev. and Mrs. Emrys Thomas, Attorney and Mrs. George W. Muse, Judge and Mrs. R. Lawrence Hildebrand, Judge and Mrs. James A. Chambers; Miss Mary J. Lewis, Katherine Lewis, David West, Arthur Eynon of Pittsburgh, Tom Fowler, Dave Fowler, Thomas Guy, Edwin Lewis, H. L. Hunt Her Grave

Parents of Miss Myrtle Sizer, above, Mt. Vernon, Ia., school teacher, missing 19 months, have requested authorities at Wayne, Neb., to institute a search for her grave on the prairie near Wayne. According to an affidavit sworn to by Wallace McAndrews, convict in the state prison at McAlester, Okla., the girl committed suicide in his auto in September, 1927, and he dug a shallow grave on the prairie and buried her.

British Papers Skeptical Over Reply On Treaty

Inclined To View Reply To Treaty Outlawing War Anything But Acceptance

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 21.—After careful analysis of the British reply to the United States proposals for a treaty outlawing war, leading newspapers diplomatic circles were inclined today to consider the communication as anything but unconditional acceptance of the American peace plan.

The general impression is that Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain has ranged himself with Foreign Minister Briand of France, rather than Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg of the United States.

Although the foreign office declines to comment it is learned that the government regards the note as a sincere attempt to meet Secretary Kellogg's proposals.

Despite "apparent reservations" the government is said to hold the closition that the communication was an "unequivocal acceptance by England and the British dominions. "The reservations according to the government viewpoint were designed to meet possible contingencies and were inserted 'in order to prevent future complications."

Florence Knapp Is Confident, Second Trial Is Started

Hope To Fill Jury Box By Nightfall Says Justice Callaghan; May Hold Night Session

(International News Service)

COUTHOUSE, ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—Declaring she was confident of being acquited, former Secretary of State Florence E. S. Knapp went to trial today for the second time in the last month on a charge of stealing census money.

Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callahan of Brooklyn who ordered Mrs. Knapp tried a second time when the jury disagreed at her first trial, announced that court would be held in session tonight of the jury box was not filled during the day.

"I am convinced I will be acquitted" Mrs. Knapp said as she took her place before the bar of justice.

Mrs. W. H. Vanderbilt Is Seeking Divorce

Charming Wife Of William Vanderbilt Enters Suit For Divorce

(International News Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., May 21.—The society romance of William H. Vanderbilt, of New York and Oakland Farm, Portsmouth, and his charming bride of five years ago, the former Miss Emily O'Neil Davies, went on the rocks again today when Mrs. Vanderbilt filed a divorce action in Newport superior court.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, who charged neglect to provide, left with the court the matter of custody of their three-year-old daughter, Emily. Hearing was set for the first week of June.

Last July Mrs. Vanderbilt brought a divorce action in the tribunal of the Seine in Paris. Through the intercession of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, the action was withdrawn. Subsequently, she came to live with her husband and her daughter at palatial Oakland Farm. She is now in New York.

Easy HOUSEKEEPING

By MRS. MEG MACGREGOR, Director of Household Science

"Stains never worry me now"

This is the cheerful beginning of a letter I have just received from a woman in Cleveland. And it is true that stains need never worry any woman who knows when and how to use Clorox. For Clorox is "bottled magic."

Common stains

For instance: Nearly every day in every family someone spills tea, coffee, chocolate, or wine. Take the stains out with Clorox in correct solution.

And then ink spots—out they come—jiffy quick! Another ugliness that sometimes seems absolutely fatal is the stain caused by medicines—argyrol, iodine, mercurochrome and others. Fruit stains, too, are easily disposed of. All these can be safely and quickly treated with Clorox. You have only to follow the directions carefully.

Mildew and scorch disappear easily too

Who hasn't carefully rolled up a cherished doilie, lunch cloth, or white cotton or linen blouse—only to let it mildew? And who hasn't taken special pains with some fine piece of linen, only to scorch it? But these accidents need not be fatal! For mildew—soak in the proper solution of Clorox for ten minutes and hang in the sunlight until all discolorations vanish. For scorched spots the method is easy, too. The label shows you how. You'll say it's nothing short of magic and it is!

Send for my Free Chart

If you have a difficult problem of cleaning or disinfecting won't you write to me about it? Perhaps I can help you. I shall be glad to answer your letter and send to you, free of charge, my "Easy Housekeeping Chart" to hang in your kitchen.

Western Pennsylvania Cities Show Great Enthusiasm For Convention, May 28-29

Insurance men in the cities of the western part of Pennsylvania have shown much interest and enthusiasm in the coming Pennsylvania Insurance Days in this city on May 28-29, by turning out in great numbers to meet the Flying Squadron of The Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, Inc to hear from the gentlemen composing this squadron the various features to be presented at 1928 Insurance Days.

Meetings were held in the following cities: McKeesport May 1, Beaver Valley May 3, Sharon May 4, Cambridge Springs May 7, Erie May 8, Oil City May 9, Franklin May 10, Butler May 11, where in each case several of the representative men had sent out the call and made all the necessary arrangements.

Wm. S. Diggs, President of The Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, Inc., was the principal speaker at all of these meetings. In his admirable and interesting way he described to his hearers the various high spots that will feature the coming Convention, giving them some idea of how these features were promoted and assuring them of the fact that time spent at New Castle on May 28-29 will be well spent indeed.

Mr. Diggs graphically described the formation of the Federation in the various states and the history of the general Federation movement, drawing upon his years of experience to relate stories and incidents that drove home the fact that never was organization more necessary than at the present time.

Joseph C. Williams, Chairman of the General Committee of the Pennsylvania Insurance Days, with Julius Blaha, Ivor M. Richards, Samuel Lewis, and M. V. Hyde, all of New Castle, and members of the committees that are working hard to insure the success of the convention, attended practically all of the meetings, driving from New Castle to these various cities.

At each gathering they spoke of their satisfaction at the great enthusiasm that was everywhere and contributed their account of the special part of the program on which they were working

Several Pittsburgh insurance men joined in the meeting. Frank S. Kauffman, Chairman of the Pittsburgh "On to New Castle" Committee; Lon C. Jeffrey, Chairman of the Commercial Health and Accident Round Table at the Insurance Days; Walter M. Ivey, who will appear upon the program, speaking on the subject of "Non-Cancellable Insurance"; and James C. Murray, former President of the Federation, each stressed the value of Federation and Federation activities in connection with Insurance Days whenever the opportunity offered itself.

R. L. Rodgers, and I. D. McQuistion, joined the Squadron at Cambridge Springs at the Crawford County meeting, journeying from there to Erie where they staged a fine gathering of Erie agents

Secretary-Manager Teamer of the Federation took an active part in each of the meetings, describing in detail the Insurance Days idea, the program and giving information in regards registration, etc.

Virtually 100 percent of the persons who attended the meetings at these cities signified their intention of coming to New Castle for the Insurance Days and of having others go with them.

Mercer Court List Contains 29 Cases

May Term Of Common Pleas Court Will Start Today

MERCER, Pa., May 21.—Listed for hearing at the May Common Pleas Court scheduled to open today are 29 cases.

The court will be the last of Common Pleas hearings until fall.

This fact is certain to make it a big session as attorneys will desire to have their cases tried without postponment.

The feature actions of the term are suits brought by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Erie and New York Central against the Sharpsville Railroad Company for car rental that aggregate a total in claims of $100,000.

The cases have been listed for a number of years; they have been posted for trial three times within the last year and postponed.

It is said that they are certain to be tried at this term.

They are of interest because of the peculiar angles of law involved.

The plaintiff companies claim of the defendant a rental of $1.00 a day for frieght cars of the plaintiffs over their lines by virtue of an agreement between railroad companies.

The defendant railroad allege they left this railroad combine and owe the plaintiffs nothing. The defendant company is a 20 mile stretch of rails between New Wilmington Junction and Sharpsville. It boasts one engine and equipment. If forced to pay the full amount they would be sadly crippled.

Hand Is Crushed In Electric Fan

J. M. Butler, who conducts the restaurant in the Allen Market on North Mill street, is confined to the Shenango Valley Hospital with a very seriously injured right hand sustained Saturday evening.

Mr. Butler was in the act of attempting some repairs or changes on the electric ventilating fan used in the restuarant, when his hand was caught in the fan in some manner. The hand is terribly crushed, many bones being broken. It will be some time before he will be able to resume his duties at the restaurant.

When "undies" fade – smart women use Tintex

. . . . the smarter a woman is in her outer apparel, the more particular she is about her "undies." They must be fresh and colorful.

. . . . and that is why the best-dressed women everywhere find Tintex indispensable. For when laundering has faded the delicate colors of their "undies," Tintex so easily, so quickly and so perfectly restores their just-like-new freshness and beauty. Even their lace-trimmed "undies" are restored to original loveliness. They use Tintex in the Blue Box—it tints the silk, but the lace remains white or its original color.

. . . . ask your dealer to show you the Tintex Color Card showing Fashion's accepted pastel shades for "undies."

Ends Torturing Gas And Misery Of Indigestion

This Lady Claims Ten Herbs Made Her Feel Better In Every Way.

"Ten Herbs gave me satisfactory relief from indigestion and swept the gas completely out of my stomach," was the statement of Mrs. C. E. Cassidy, 37 West Spruce Street, Washington, Pa., to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine.

MRS. C. E. CASSIDY

"I cannot begin to tell you how I suffered with indigestion for a year or more," Mrs. Cassidy continued. "I could never enjoy my meals, as gas formed and caused bloating. Sometimes this condition effected my heart. I was weak and could never get a good night's rest—I always felt tired upon arising in the morning. I tried all kinds of medicines for indigestion. Some helped me at the time, but none gave me the relief I needed.

"I read so much in the paper about Ten Herbs, and how so many people had been benefitted by it, that I decided to give your medicine a trial. I was on the second bottle when I underwent a decided change for the better. Ten Herbs put my stomach in proper condition and improved my appetite wonderfully. I can sit down and enjoy my meals now, as I never have any indigestion afterwards. I feel better and stronger in every way, and cannot say enough in appreciation of the way Ten Herbs banished my stomach trouble."

Use Ten Herbs and find how it is to feel alert, alive and energetic—free of all stomach distress, headaches, biliousness, aches and pains and constipation. That is the way Ten Herbs has made thousands feel. It not only benefits and invigorates the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels but has a soothing, correcting, cleansing effect on the entire system, usually making one feel better in every way. Ten Herbs is made from the medicinal extracts of roots, herbs and barks, and is a splendid spring tonic.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, May 21.—Time was when the onlything a man wanted when he went into a barber shop was a shave. Maybe he'd get a haircut, too, and if he were a real dude and reckless with his money, he'd spend all of 75 cents for a shampoo and a massage. Sometimes the barber could hypnotize him into getting a hair treatment, if he were middle-aged and bald on top.

But now the barbers — pardon, the facial specialists—in the de luxe tonsorial parlors in New York act insulted if a man comes in only for a shave. They expect him to have a shave, a hair trim, a shampoon, a hot oil massage, a lilac vapor treatment, a manicure, and possibly a violet-ray treatment to produce artificial sunburn. And the barber, manicurist and checkroom attendant expect a tip.

In these beauty parlors for men they have a repertoire of treatments as long as the list of symptoms in a patent-medicine testimonial. And they have regular customers for marcel-waves, at $25 each, removal of wrinkles, eyebrow plucking and reducing baths. They also supply toupees made to order. A toupee costs $25 and lasts less than a year.

Incidentally, there is a law against operation of barber shops in New York on Sunday. So you have to go in the back way and pay 50 cents for a Sabbath shave. Bearded men are likely to be accosted on Sunday morning in Times Square and quietly told where there is a speakeasy barber shop.

"Variety," the principal organ of the profession, has discovered that actors and show people in general have a mortality rate above the average. Life insurance company statistics show that the death rate for actors is 45 per cent above the average.

This despite the fact that few of them ever work themselves to death.

The high mortality rate among those connected with the stage is undoubtedly due to the fact that hours of work and sleep are often unnatural, and meals are eaten at irregular periods. The constant change in diet and sleeping quarters, which is the actor's lot while he is on the road, and the absence of regular family life, are not conducive to longevity.

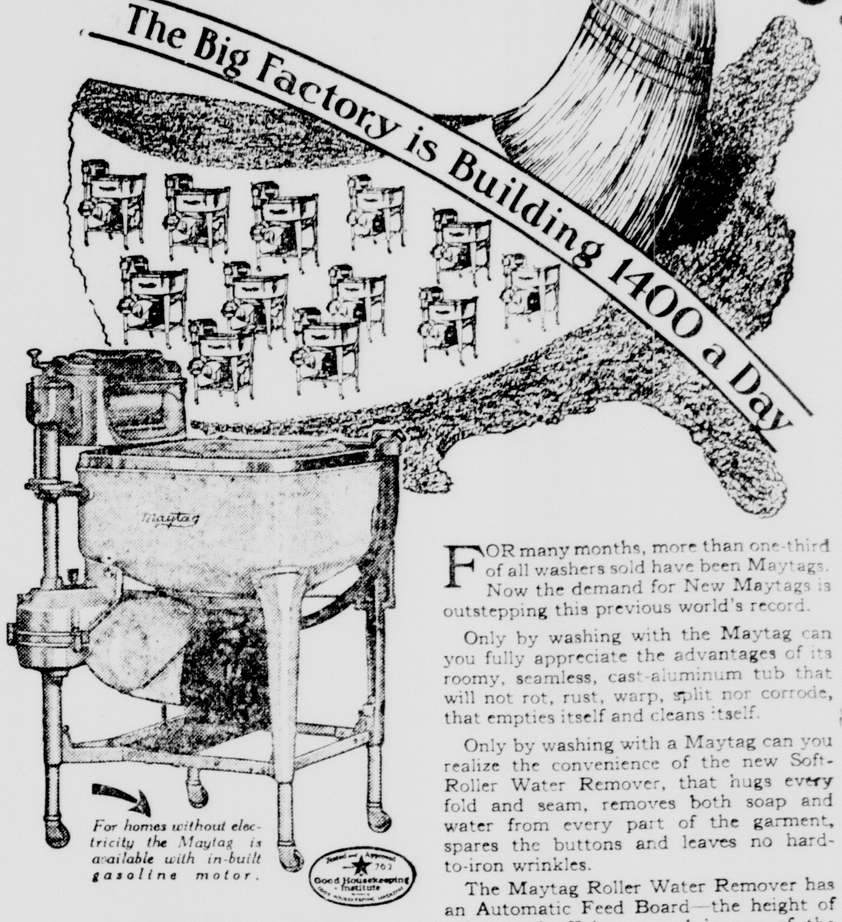
The Big Factory is Building 1400 a Day



For homes without electricity the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

Good Housekeeping Institute

FOR many months, more than one-third of all washers sold have been Maytags. Now the demand for New Maytags is outstepping this previous world's record.

Only by washing with the Maytag can you fully appreciate the advantages of its roomy, seamless, cast-aluminum tub that will not rot, rust, warp, split nor corrode, that empties itself and cleans itself.

Only by washing with a Maytag can you realize the convenience of the new Soft-Roller Water Remover, that hugs every fold and seam, removes both soap and water from every part of the garment, spares the buttons and leaves no hard-to-iron wrinkles.

The Maytag Roller Water Remover has an Automatic Feed Board—the height of safety and efficiency, and is one of the many features exclusively owned and controlled by Maytag.

A Phone Call Brings You One

The Maytag will do an average washing in an hour or so, and it is so thorough that no hand-rubbing is necessary even on collars, cuffs, wristbands or grimy overalls. Try a Maytag. If it doesn't sell itself—don't keep it!

Why the New Maytag Leads the World

—Automatic-feed, Soft Roller Water Remover, which swings to seven positions and reverses. Does not crush buttons and has instant, safety-tension release.
—Non-breakable, heat-retaining, life-lasting, cast-aluminum tub which cleans and empties itself.
—Quiet power-drive with precision-cut steel gears.
—A week's washing done in an hour.
—No hand-rubbing—even of cuffs and collars.
—Adjustable legs which raise or lower the tub to your height.
—Hinged cover which forms handy shelf when open.
—Built for a lifetime of washing service. Beautiful lacquer finish.

Organists Gather In State Meeting

READING, Pa., May 21.—The Pennsylvania State Council, National Association of Organists, today opened the regular business sessions as delegates attended the second day of the eight annual convention.

The convention opened here yesterday with special music services being presented in a number of churches by visiting delegates.

Today was "Reading Day", the delegates devoting most of their time to the development of plans for the advancement of community musical events and the furthering of education designed to bring forth the highest ideals in ecclesiastical music.

Tomorrow will be "Pennsylvania Day" when a number of programs and recitals will be given in the churches and theaters. There will also be an illustrated lecture on the art of the organ builders.

Patriotism is just an enlargement of the conviction that wherever you are is a good neighborhood.

Note to brides and grooms. Flyin is safe; it's the coming down to earth that's dangerous.

Will Speed Up Airport Work

Runways To Be Provided Large Enough For Auy Type Plane

That Governor John S. Fisher had signed the charter for the New Castle Aircraft, Inc., and that the Pennsylvania Public Service commission had assigned the number P. S. C. Pennsylvania A-1182 to the "Pride of New Castle," the airplane owned by the corporation, is reported by Ed Schultz, pilot who is in charge of the ship.

"Everything is in readiness to begin commercial traffic," continued Mr. Schultz. "Up until this time, we have witheld operations awaiting the sanction of the Public Service Commission, and since that has been granted, we are ready to carry passengers.

"Work on the field on the Harlansburg road will keep apace with the new developments. Right along, workmen have been grading the field, and in a very short time it will be ready to accomodate any sort of a plane.

"But we are building for the future rather than for the present. It is the plan of the airport committee of the Chamber of Commerce to develop this port much after ones in Europe. There will be, soon, two cement run ways in the direction of the prevailing winds which will afford enough room to handle any ship including the Fokker tri-motor, which I believe, is one of the largest planes which is being built. Modern hangars will be put on the field, each with a concrete apron in front of it, as is done by the best European companies. There will also be machine shops and gasoline and oil stations for visiting pilots, as well as waiting roms for passengers.

"It is through the whole heated co-operation of such public spirited men as David Pyle, who is immensely interested in the project, O. P. Brown, W. J. Offutt, Ira Ramsey, Herbert Pears, Scott Paisley and Roy Bradford that the airport here will become a success. The field itself is an ideal place as there are at least 40 emergency fields within a four mile radius, so that if a pilot has trouble with his ship, he can bring his passengers to the ground in safety.

CASCADE PARK OPENED FORMALLY

Large Crowds Pack Midway; Rainbow Terrace Is Open

Cascade Park was formally opened for the 1928 recreation season Saturday and according to Carl Shaner, manager of the amusement ground, a large crowd enjoyed itself along the Midway until rain descending in the evening.

Rainbow Terrace with Morrel Stark's Terrace Garden orchestra had its baptism and the largest crowd of dancers of the season stayed until the closing number.

The Dodge'em with 20 new automobiles, similar in operation and appearance to real motor cars was a crowded place as was the Tilt-A-Whirl and the new Circular fish pond.

The Milk Bottle game, a new device at the park also got a big play according to the concessionaires.

Park attaches say they are optimistic over the coming season.

The park will now be open day and night until Labor day with dancing being featured nightly.

Hanlon Attends State Convention

New Castle Man Is State Secretary Of K. Of C. At York Meeting

Bernard N. Hanlon, state secretary of the Knights of Columbus, left New Castle Saturday afternoon for York, Pa., where he is attending the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Council, Knights of Columbus. The sessions will continue until Wednesday evening.

The annual assembly began Sunday morning with the registration of delegates at Mr. Hanlon's office, which is established in the Knights of Columbus home at York. In the evening the third degree was exemplified under the direction of Lawrence G. Dana of Derrick City, state deputy supreme knight. This was followed by a lunch.

The annual meeting will begin Tuesday morning with solemn high mass at St. Mary's church, with the Rev. David F. Hickey, L. LD., officiating. A business session will take place later in the morning and the annual banquet will be given in the evening.

New Castle Woman Is Convention Speaker

BUTLER, Pa., May 21.—The 71st convention of the Luther Leagues of the Pittsburgh district of the United Lutheran churches was held Saturday in the First English Lutheran church of Butler. More than 100 delegates were in attendance.

Rev. Harry M. Erb of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Northside, Pittsburgh, was the principal speaker at the morning session.

Speakers at the afternoon session were Miss Margaret M. Kuech of New Castle on "Bible Study and the Prayer Life"; Rev. H. W. Bikle of Pittsburgh on "Prayer, Forms and Free, and Advantages of Each." At this session there was a demonstration service by the Junior Luther League of the First English Lutheran church of Butler and the Orphans' Home children of Zelienople.

RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

ESTABLISHED 1879

The Greatest Money's Worth You Ever Found in a Suit of Clothes

IN style and quality, Richman's Clothes bear evidence of our determination to make the finest clothes it has ever been possible to sell at $22.50, or a price near that figure.

For many years, Richman's Clothes have had the reputation of giving most for the money. But never before in all our experience has it been possible to produce so much through and through quality as we do today.

We are not only making these clothes smartly fashionable, but adding woolen luxury and tailoring quality that prompts men to compare them only with clothes sold at substantially higher prices.

As a fitting foundation for their rich appearance, we are using finer materials than ever in the hidden inner construction—giving more care to the tailoring of each of the 232 separate operations we employ in making a suit—safeguarding as never before the lasting style and long wear you expect of your clothes.

You will see woolens in Richman's Clothes, today, finer than any clothing or woolen man ever expected to see priced at less than $50. We repeat—The Greatest Money's Worth You Ever Found in a Suit of Clothes.

And you will find, in the Richman store, a greater variety of new styles, fabrics, and shades at—$22.50,—than others show at all prices combined.

Richman Facts and Figures

Half a century's experience in good clothes making.

First to sell ready-to-wear clothes direct from the factory—first to establish a standard price of $22.50 for any suit, topcoat or tuxedo suit.

To Attend Knights Templar Conclave

J. A. Fink Will Represent Local Commandary At Reading Event

J. L. Fink, recorder of the Lawrence Commandry, No. 62, of the Knights Templar, will represent the local commandry at the diamond anniversary conclave of the Grand Commandary of Pennsylvania, Knights Templar, meeting at Reading on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mr. Fink is leaving this evening for the event. The annual parade, which will be held Tuesday morning, will likely have about 3,000 uniformed Knights, with 35 bands, and will be the big event of the week.

Preparations are also being made for a big event at Detroit, when the week of July 15 more than 200,000 Knights Templar will attend the 37th tri-ennial conclave of the Knights Templar of the United States. This is expected to be the biggest convention ever held in America and will tax the hospitality of the city to its capacity to take care of the crowd.

Thousands Use Swimming Pool At New Castle "Y"

While there are a few people in New Castle who still wait for Saturday evening to perform their ablutions, yet those men and boys who use the Y. M. C. A. believe that after all, cleaniness amounts to something, says Walter E. Kirker, physical director. For out of the thousands who use the gymnasium each month, there are very few who do not top off their gym work with a swim in the Y. M. C. A. pool.

"During the month of January," states Mr. Kirker, "there were 4,128 men and boys who used the gym. Every one of these, I know, finished their work with a plunge. All of them use it, and all seem to enjoy it. In February, 3,700 used the gym and pool; in March 3,500; and in April, 2,500.

"Or, in all, the pool and gym were used 13,828 times this year. Say that each man and boy would swim at least 100 yards each time he used the pool. Then, this year alone, there were more than 785 miles clicked off in the Y pool. And this is a conservative estimate for many of the men are not content with 100 yards, but swim much farther each time they take a plunge.

"Robert M. Strickler, one of the best patrons of the Y. pool, still takes his daily plunge. He states that it is his only form of exercise. Elmer Glass, who is employed at the New Castle post office, also is an advocate of the daily dip. And Jack Herbert is another man who swims daily when his work will permit him to do so.

"Yes, the pool is used much more in the winter than it is during the summer months because it seems that men and boys perfer outdoor swimming pools in July and August. January and February are the months when most people splash about in the pool.

"Hundreds of boys have been taught to swim by the Y. The association is a mecca for the natators of the city. From early morning until late at night, the pool is in constant use."

Boycott By Chinese May Help Uncle Sam

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—China's hope lies in the boycott.

To a great extent, so does America's hope. That is to say, America's hope of escaping a lot of trouble, as a result of Japan's attempt to establish herself permanently on the Asiatic mainland, greatly beyond her present sphere of influence there, depends largely upon the success of the Chinese attempt to resist the islanders' encroachments, by the boycott method.

Fortunately, the Chinese are the best boycotters in the world's history, so the prospect isn't entirely discouraging.

As a straight military proposition, Japan can thump China all she pleases. Nobody disputes it. The Chinese can fight among themselves, but they can't put up much of a fight against any scrappy nation of outsiders.

The Japanese, established, as they are, in the imporant northern Chinese province of Shantung, will stay there, so far as any Chinese attempt to oust them by force of arms is concerned.

If anybody ejects them, by military means, it will have to be some occidental power. It certainly will be no European power, or combination of them. The European powers would rather divide China with Japan, and among themselves, than try to intervene for China's benefit.

Intervention will be undertaken by the United States or nobody. It's a large order.

To be sure, it's of vast importance to us. "It can't be expected," as Dr. S. K. Hornbeck, of the state department's far eastern division, puts it, "that the American government will look with favor upon measures tending to break up China, or establish an atmosphere of influence there."

From a state department official, this is strong language.

It signifies that the Washington government realizes the Chinese "open door"—a "sacred elephant" of ours, to mix metaphors—is threatened. It's a jab at one of our most beloved policies and our still more dearly beloved pocketbook.

Nevertheless—What are we going to do about it?

We can object 'till we're black in the face and that's all the good it will do us. True, we have some pretty potent economic weapons we can employ, but it all simmers down to a question of brute force in the well-known last analysis.

Brute force, resorted to by the United States, as far away as the other side of the Pacific, is unpleasant to think about—in fact, practically "unthinkable," to use a hackneyed expression.

Naturally it will be much nicer if China can take care of herself.

Luckily, unmilitary as they are, the Chinese have shown a remarkable capacity for doing this by the boycott route.

The Japanese can lick 'em, but they can't make the individual Chinaman buy their products. They can threaten dire things, if he refuses to do it, but they can't pick him out of 400 million and actually do anything to him. How can they?—if he balks at paying a few coppers for a yard of Japanese calico or some such thing? It's simply impossible.

It has been tried over and over again.

The Chinese aren't supposed to know what patriotism is—to be entirely lacking in any national consciousness. And so they are—in a military sense. But commercially—gosh! — they're the most cohesive people in existence.

They've invoked the boycott already, in opposition to Japan's latest occupation of their territory. Elsewhere on earth we might be justified in thinking it didn't amount to much. China's different.

The state department's sitting back and waiting a little. It isn't as inactive a policy as it may look like—applied to China.

Exercises At Grove City College Will Begin Friday, June 8

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 21.—The Annual Commencement Exercises at Grove City College will open on Friday, June 8 and close on Wednesday, June 13, according to the announcement made through the College office today. Rev. Robert E. Speer, D. D., Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, has been selected to deliver the annual Baccalaureate sermon, at the services which will be held Sunday evening, June 10, in the Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Charles N. Moore, of the Class of '93, will deliver the Ivy Day Address, at the Ivy Day exercises to be held on the Campus, Monday afternoon, June 11. The Commencement address will be given, at the final Commencement Exercises, Wednesday morning, by Honorable C. G. Jordan, Secretary of Agriculture of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The graduating exercises will be climaxed by the annual Alumni Luncheon, at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday, in the Ketler Gynasium. Class Day exercises will be held Tuesday morning in the Old Presbyterian church auditorium. The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College will be held in the Administration building, also on Tuesday.

The graduating class includes 117 candidates for Bachelor degrees, 4 for music certificates, 9 for Master degrees, 4 for Doctor of Divinity, 2 for Doctor of Law, and 10 for secretarial certificates.

Airport Expert To Visit West. Penna.

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

Washington, D. C., May 21.—W. O. Snyder, one of the Department of Commerce experts on airport construction, will visit Butler during the week of June 4 for the purpose of giving the Board of Commerce of that city practical instructions on the requirements of a modern airport.

The Butler Board of Commerce is interested in developing a municipal airport and requested Representative J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls, to make arrangements for a Government expert to advise them on the project.

Snyder is now on a tour of eastern cities and expects to visit Butler sometime during the week of June 4.

Start To Operate Butler Coal Mine

About 150 Miners Will Be Employed When Old Mine Resumes Working

MERCER, Pa., May 21.—The Kildo Mine located in Butler County the property of F. P. Filer of Mercer and others is being made ready for active operations again after a shut down of some time.

It employs 150 miners. A contract with the Wabash Railroad for coal deliveries in Canada has just been signed which will operate the mine at full capacity for one year.

The opening of this mine is the first break in the coal business in the Butler-Mercer County district in two years.

The conditions have never been as bad in all history of the business. The adjustment of freight rates of recent date makes this possible.

Nunn Chairman For Meeting Of Kiwanis Club

No program for the weekly meeting of the New Castle Kiwanis Club has been announced for Wednesday, but William M. Nunn, the chairman for the day has something which he asserts will be as good as any program presented in weeks.

Arrangements will be futhered at the Wednesday meeting for the All-Kiwanis Night in the Brodhead Hotel in Beaver Falls. This will be held on June 13, and will be a duplicate of similar meetings held all over the country the same night.

It is probable that arrangements will be completed for the attendance of President H. Lee Marvin, and Trustee C. J. Williamson at the Spring Conference of the Southwest Division to be held in Pittsburgh, May 31.

Grove City Man Joins Faculty

Kenneth Lauderdale Will Become Instructor At Thorn Hill School

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 21.—Kenneth Lauderdale, well known Grove City man, will join the faculty of Thorn Hill school for Boys, at Warringdale, Pa., the last of this month, according to his statement yesterday. Mr. Lauderdale, who has been manager of the Ferver and Hill Clothing Store, Broad street, for the past three years, will take up his new duties on May 28, having full charge of the military instruction and physical training at the school.

With his ten years experience in the National Guard, including service on the Mexican Border and in France, Mr. Lauderdale will be well qualified for his new duties. He has been active in the work of the local American Legion Post and the Post Bugle and Drum Corps.

Forty-Nine Drivers Lose License To Drive In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 21.—Revocation of 49 automobile drivers' licenses was announced today by the Department of Highways. Twenty-three additional names have been placed on the official prohibitory list.

Twenty-two of the revocations and seven of the black listings were caused by intoxication. Intoxication revocations included Freeland B. Rice, Lancaster, and Walter Lord, Jr., Chester.

Revocations on the charge of being improper persons to operate motor vehicles included Antoni Wiloszyn, Braddock; John Ehman, Bethlehem; and Thomas Troboth, Allentown.

Three Uniontown men were included in the list of revocations for driving without the consent of the owner. They were John Farrell, Benny Tissue and Earl Berke.

Reports Progress On Junior High

East Wing Of New School Is Almost Completed, States Gilfillan

Plastering has been completed in all but one class room of the new George Washington junior high school located on Euclid avenue, states J. Clyde Gilfillan, who is constructing the building, in a report on the progress made. Mr. Gilfillan also declares that all of the offices have been plastered and now men are doing the ornamental work in the lobbies and corridors.

Concreters are pouring the floor and balcony seats in the auditorium, says Mr. Gilfillan, and in a short time this is expected to be completed. Already the carpenters have placed the wood trimmings in all of the rooms in the east wing of the building, except the hanging of the doors. Painters started to work on the trim this morning.

It is hoped that the building will be entirely completed in time for the opening of school next fall, avers Mr. Gilfillan.

Put An End To Eczema Tortured Skin

Remedy That Costs But Little At Any Drug Store Never Disappoints

When your skin itches and is fiery and eczema tortures you night and day why not go to your druggist and get a 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment?

For many years its mighty healing power has been of great benefit to sufferers from eczema and we are sure that one box will prove it to you.

Read what Temple Carter of Gary, Ind., writes—It proves what a blessing Peterson's Ointment is for skin troubles.

"My whole face was ruined with livid splashes, blackheads and patches. I could get no relief from anything I used. After using the sample box of Peterson's Ointment the ugly skin began to disappear, so I got a box from my druggist. My skin is now like glass, smooth and clear, and I look like I did 15 years ago. With pleasure you are permitted to publish these wonderful results. I cannot praise Peterson's Ointment enough. I hope this will help all skin sufferers."

Making Progress On City Projects

Municipal Improvements Are Under Way, Engineer Reports

AWAIT DECISION OF STATE ON CERTIFICATES

Although no new improvement projects will be started until the state's attorney-general hands down a decision relative to certificates of indebtedness, improvements which were started here recently are proceeding rapidly, according to City Engineer Franklin Miller.

Woods & Golder are setting curb in Sheridan avenue, the paving having been completed last week. The avenue was paved with concrete.

Contractor M. J. Scanlon is installing a tile drain in Harrison street. The drain is being placed on the upper side. Actual paving will start soon.

Contractor Strikes Rock.

Olsen company has finished paving with concrete of one side of South Jefferson street between Long avenue and the Big Run bridge. The paving is to continue south and up the hill to Terrace avenue.

The contractor expects to make good way on the other side of the street today which hillside brick will be used as the material on the steep hill. Curb is being placed on the hill portion today, Miller stated.

J. C. Gilfillan has installed a sewer in Sumner avenue between Albert and Highland avenue and Olsen company has encountered rock while laying a sewer in Garfield avenue between Wilmington avenue and North Mercer street.

No Decision Yet.

Relative to improvements which are paid for by certificates of indebtedness Solicitor White recently told councilmen that the city should not let contracts for work which are to be paid in that way.

He said an act of legislature had made it imperative that the state approve all municipal bonds before they could be issued so that cities could take care of their sinking fund.

In some manner, he said recently, the question of certificates of indebtedness became involved and the question was put before the state's attorney-general for a decision.

As the state's attorney-general has not yet handed down an opinion naturally all improvements throughout the state of Pennsylvania are suffering delay.

ABANDON ALL HOPE FOR ANY TRAPPED IN MATHER MINE

officials directing the rescue work said.

The rescue crews are digging through each room in each of the butts between Nos. 15 to 25, in which the bodies are believed to be buried.

Faint Hope Any Alive

Any faint hope that any of the miners would be found alive in the mine was dispelled by the condition of the bodies removed today. They were burned almost beyond recognition.

State Senator Charles Parkinson of Waynesburg took charge of the identification and transfer of bodies from the temporary morgue to the schoolhouse, where the bodies have been placed in caskets.

The work of digging through the debris progressed slowly, as the men were forced to back into each room. They painstakingly dig into each room of each butt, pump in fresh air and then branch out into the mine entries. Everywhere they are finding charred debris which shows the force of the explosion.

Fourteen miners escaped death, eight of them being in nearby hospitals.

One explanation of the explosion which was given considerable credence here was that the blast followed a spark caused by contact between an electric cable and a cutting machine. This was reported to have been the explanation given by two of the 14 men rescued from the mine.

Fear Black Damp Takes Toll

MATHER, Pa., May 21.—Gas!

One short word today sealed the fate of 197 men trapped in the Mather mine of the Mather collieries here by an explosion late Saturday.

While rescue teams from all parts of western Pennsylvania worked frantically to reach the miners in the forlorn hope that some of them may have been able to brattice themselves in from the working face of the mine and so escape the deadly gas, the grim veterans of the crews and federal and company officials alike saw no hope for the entombed men. Deadly gas—"black damp"—which swept the workings in the wake of the terrific explosion, was feared to have taken its toll.

Crews digging around one debris-choked working face of the mine in the hope that if the rescue crews can get behind the spot where the full force of the blast struck they may find men bratticed away in canvas rooms which could have checked the spread of the gas.

Experts who hurried here at first news of the explosion, however, have abandoned hope, because of the way in which gas has spread to every crevice in the mine so far explored.

While the majority of the experts assign gas as the reason for the blast, there were some who claimed that dust, possibly ignited by a spark from a mine car trolley, caused the explosion.

Overlooking no chances to save any men who may have been able to brattice themselves in from the gas, thousands of cubic feet of pure air were being forced into the workings today.

A picture of the force of the blast was given by Marcus Cobb, leader of the first seven-man rescue team of reach the base of the shaft after the explosion.

He said the bodies of three men, badly mangled, were found almost at the foot of the shaft—5000 feet from the center of the explosion. A few feet farther on they came upon three injured men. As far as they dared advance in the fact of the gas they found bodies, many mangled beyond identification.

Wait in Silence.

Meanwhile, on the green hillsides which slope down to the colliery tipple, a small army waited—silently sharing a hope which cold scientific calculation failed to dim—relatives of the victims.

From the hour late Saturday when word spread through the neat little mining village that an explosion had sealed the mine, they have kept vigil—matrons, children, babes in arms—while kindly strangers organized into rescue teams to brave the death most of the entombed miners probably have met.

The ever present Red Cross is here, serving coffee and sandwiches, ministering to the weary rescue teams, comforting the stricken. Ambulances, needed now only to convey the canvas wrapped bodies, share the vigil.

The federal and state bureaus of mines are investigating the explosion and directing rescue work, while a hastily summoned coroner's jury under the direction of Coroner J. W. Ross has viewed the bodies so far recovered.

Thousands on thousands of persons, from all parts of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, came here Sunday to view the blast-wrecked mine. They were kept from the mins and temporary morgue by troopers.

Rescuer Tells of Trip.

MATHER, Pa., May 21.—A black, suffocating pit, strewn with debris—dead and dying men—stifling heat—this was the memory August Carnock, the first man to enter the Mather mine after the explosion Saturday recalled today as he rested after his latest trip into the wrecked mine.

Carnock was a member of the first relief crew, which entered the mine through the air shaft, several miles from the main entrance. Carnock slid down a pipe when he found the airshaft stairs torn away by the blast.

"I stood still and listened for some sign which would guide me to one of my pals," he said. "Suddenly, I heard a call for help. I found the man—but too late. He died as I reached him."

A voice, coming from the mine floor directly beneath him, startled Carnock.

"I was nearly scared to death. Then I found a poor fellow, buried under a slide of coal and slate. I dragged him back to the airshaft."

Dead and dying men, in all sorts of grotesque postures, greeted Carnock as he crawled ahead, holding his lamp before him.

One man was in a sitting position in a mine car, and when Carnock shook him the body slumped to the floor of the car—dead.

Gives Life in Rescue Effort.

MATHER, Pa., May 21.—Tom Callaghan, assistant foreman of the blast-wrecked Mather colliery, died in an effort to save the lives of 14 miners with whom he was trapped in Callaghan's shanty.

Callaghan's stirring message, over the mine telephone which escaped the blast, spurred rescue teams on Saturday night. Callaghan's body was found with those of the others some time after the mine telephone failed.

The assistant foreman and his men barricaded themselves in Callaghan's shanty, while Callaghan sent out his call for help.

Albany Honors Bremen Crew In Fine Reception

Ten Thousand Line Streets Of New York State Capital To Glimpse Bremen Fliers

REACH ALBANY IN PRIVATE CAR

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—Ten thousand Albanians joined by hundreds from all parts of Eastern New York, lined the city's business streets today and paid homage to the Bremen fliers as they were escorted from their private car in the Union station yards to the Dewitt Clinton hotel, near the capitol.

Perched on the rear seat of Mayor Boyd Thacher's automobile the three trans-Atlantic heroes were accorded a reception second to none that has ever been given by this old Dutch city.

The fliers arrived in Albany from Boston shortly after 5 o'clock this morning but it was 10 o'clock when they emerged from their car to be greeted by city officials.

As the procession moved up State street the municipal carillon in the city hall tower peeled forth "Tme Watch on the Rhine" for Baron Von Huenefeld and Captain Koehl and "Killarney" for Major Fitzmauris.

The fliers came to Albany at the invitotion of Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Believe Brake Rod Came Loose, Causing Wreck

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 21.—Division railroad officials from Pittsburgh at a conference here today expressed themselves that the accident yesterday, in which passenger train number 616 westbound, crashed into a freight car killing one man, was unavoidable.

They stated that the accident was caused when the brake rod under the freight car became loose and fell to the ties and in the path of the speeding Pullman train.

Wrecking crews, working late last night in an effort to clear the tracks, had all of the debris removed by this morning.

Engineer John C. Hooper, who was injured in the smashup, was reported by Cambria hospital authorities as resting fairly well. His recovery is assured, they said.

Delay Action On Vine Street Plea

Vine Street Not Graded Entirely According To Councilman Burns

Council today referred to the city engineer a petition asking that sidewalks be laid in Vine street between Croton avenue and Federal street.

It was decided to take this action when Councilman Burns said there is a "crook in the street" explaining there is 40 feet of Vine street which has not been graded.

The city engineer is to gather statistics relative to the grading after which council will grant or reject the petition.

Councilmen O. K. Small Paving Job

Councilmen today voiced approval to a contract between the city and New Castle Doublewall company for the grading and paving of the entrance to the South Jefferson street fire department and intersection of South Mercer and South Jefferson street. The bid was $1120.

Four Killed In Motor Accidents Over Week-End

Four Killed And Twenty-Three Injured As Warm Sunshine Brings Motorists Out

(International News Service)

Four persons were killed and twenty-three injured by automobiles in Pennsylvania over the week-end, a survey by International News Service today reveals.

Spring weather lured thousands to the highways.

Three persons were killed in Philadelphia and one at Berwick. Fifteen persons were injured in and near Philadelphia, one in Harrisburg, four in Pottsville, two in Gettysburg and one in Pittsburgh.

There was a notable lack of motor accidents in Western Pennsylvania, in contrast with last week, when eight persons were killed near Erie.

No Legislation On Elk Hills Oil Lease

Congress To Adjourn Without Taking Action On Measure

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Congress will adjourn without enacting legislation designed to protect the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserve, it was indicated today.

The legislation was sought by the navy department to prevent drainage of the vast oil supply and to prevent naval oil from going into the hands of foreign-owned companies.

Rep. Hale (R) of New Hampshire, chairman of a house naval affairs sub-committee in charge of the bill, said that action had been delayed by the illness of Rep. Butler (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee.

Not only do several private oil companies have leases on the edge—and in one case in the center—of the reserve, but in an adjoining reserve oil is being sold by a private lessee to British oil interests for export, Secretary of Navy Wilbur said. The navy, he said, is anxious to preserve the Elk Hills field, one of the largest in the world.

The navy department had suggested exchanging government oil lands in reserve already "cut up" by private leases for the few private leases in the Elk Hills reserve.

Motorist Found Suicide Victim

Body Of New York State Man Found Slumped Over Steering Wheel, Dead By Gas Fumes

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—Slumped over the steering wheel with one hand clutching a gum rubber hose, the other end of which was attached to the muffler of the automobile, the body of a man believed to be that of Emil J. Meisel, 40, of 17 Legran road, Irondequoit, N. Y., was found today on a sideroad off the Perry Highway at Warrendale.

The body was found by D. Reese, chief Clerk of the Thorn hill home for boys, who was scouring the countryside near there for escaped youths.

The suicide took place about four days ago, was the opinion of Dr. L. G. Davis of Warrendale, who examined the body and ordered that it be removed to the morgue.

Traveler's checks amounting to $210, $25 in cash and a card asking that "Dr. Reynolds of Rochester, N. Y." be notified, were found in the man's clothing.

Woman Breaks Swimming Record

Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston Swims For 50 Hours And 10 Minutes At Chicago

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 21.—The world's endurance swimming record was returned to the United States today when Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston of Mattoon, Ill., mother of a 12-year-old boy, finished 50 hours of continuous swimming.

Mrs. Huddleston's exact time in the water was 50 hours, 10 minutes and 15 4-5 seconds. She was so weak that attendants had to carry her from the pool. She lost 25 pounds during the record swim.

Mrs. Huddleston is noted as the only woman to swim the Catalina channel. She failed in the $25,000 Wrigley event, but later negotiated the distance, despite an attack by a barracuda.

Rule Is Granted To Open Judgment

Petition to open judgment was presented to Judge Hildeband this morning in the case of Marian Blah against Joe Gregorich. The case is one in which it was proposed to sell property of defendant on a note for $350. The controversy grew out of a sale of a grocery and meat market at Bessemer by Blah to Gregorich for $2000. Of this amount $1200 was paid in cash and the balance was to be paid later. It is claimed by the defendant that plaintiff agreed not to go into the same line of business in Bessemer, but that shortly after the sale was consummated Blah went into the same line of business on the same street. Gregorich claims that this was a breach of the contract and that he has been damaged to the extent of $1000, and as a result he does not owe Blah anything. A rule was granted.

College Professor Hurt In Accident

Westminster Track Coach Is Hurt; Jack Hulme Also In Car

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 21.—About a mile south of town on the New Castle road, Professor R. X. Graham and Jack Hulme of the Westminster college met with an accident while motoring in the latter's car Saturday evening. The accident occurred when a north bound automobile suddenly swerved across the road blocking the right of way and causing the collision with the Westminster man's car.

None of the occupants of either machine was seriously hurt except Professor Graham who received bad lacerations on his face, hands and legs from flying glass. A slight cut on the hand totaled the sum of Mr. Hulmes injuries.

Professor Graham stayed inside yesterday and today, but it is expected that he will soon be able to take up his teaching and coaching activities.

Search For Boy Ends In Chicago

Eight Year Old Lad's Body Is Found In Chicago River

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 21.—The frantic search for eight-year-old Johnny Pyrek, the "sand pile boy", is at an end. His little body was recovered late yesterday from the Chicago River, thereby revealing that the last story told by his playmates was substantially correct.

The child disappeared from his home a week ago today. Bruno Bogdon, his playmate, fabricated several wild stories as to Johnny's fate before declaring that he had fallen into the river.

A coroner's physician said the body bore no marks of violence.

Chicago Co-Ed Self Poisoned, Reported Dying

Miss Helen Owens, Daughter Of Penn State Professor, Fights For Life

PARENTS OBJECTED TO MARRIAGE PLANS

Eleven Blood Transfusions Resorted To In Effort To Counteract Slow-Acting Potion

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 21.—Miss Helen R. Owens, University of Chicago co-ed who swallowed poison when her parents objected to her marriage, was reported dying at the Campus hospital today.

At her bedside are her parents and the sweetheart she could not live without. The latter is John Mayer of Pittsburgh, an engineer.

The girl's father, Professor Frederick W. Owens, dean of mathematics at State College, Pa., placed the boy's hand in that of the girl and gave them his blessing. Hoping to restore her will to live, he assured both there were no objections to their marriage.

Prof. Owens declared his daughter had over-emphasized the attitude he and Mrs. Owens had taken of the affair.

"We merely counseled delay until she had finished her studies," he said.

The girl swallowed a slow-acting poison which, according to physicians, is almost impossible to counteract after it permeates the system. Three more blood transfusions, bringing the total to eleven, were accomplished yesterday.

More than a hundred fellow students of the stricken girl had volunteered for this service.

Balloon Races Start On May 30 At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 21—Pittsburgh, on Memorial Day, will see more aircraft zooming in and out of the clouds above this district than it has ever seen in any other 24-hour period, Lieut. Frank McKee, operations officer for the national balloon races at Bettis Field, predicted today.

Lieut. McKee, who returned from Washington Saturday after conferences with military officials, announced that a squad of pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Detroit, under Maj. Thomas Lanphier, had been officially ordered to attend the races by Brig. Gen. James Fecht's headquarters, and that Army fliers at Bolling Field, Washington; Wright Field, Columbus, had requested officials of the balloon races to provide accommodations. McKee said accommodations are being made for 50 visiting planes, besides the 14 balloons that have entered in the races and the Pilgrim, the world's smallest airship, which the Goodyear interests will fly here.

Wife Uses Hatchet To Tame Husband

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 21.—John Angelo, 40, of Youngwood, is in the Memorial hospital, Mount Pleasant, with a probable fracture of the skull. Angelo, officers say, had been struck by his wife with a hatchet as a weapon.

Angelo, alleged by neighbors to be brutal to his wife, was the victim of the worm that turned. It was the first time in the family history that the wife got into defensive action for herself. Angelo's condition is good. The woman will not be arrested.

Civil War Widow's Pension Increased

Mrs. Minnie Leeper To Receive Larger Pension From Government

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—An increase of pension has been granted to Minnie Leeper, New Castle Civil War Widow, to aid her in caring for her helpless daughter, under a pension bill just passed by Congress.

Mrs. Leeper is 82 years old. She is the widow of Robert Leeper, late of Company K, Third Regiment Ohio Infantry. They were married on April 27, 1865 and therefore Mrs. Leeper is not entitled to the $50 pension granted to all widows of Civil War veterans who were the wives of veterans during their period of service. She is now pensioned at the rate of $30 a month with an allowance of $6 for her dependent daughter, Mary J. Leeper.

Under the law Mrs. Leeper will now receive $50 a month, including $20 monthly for her daughter.

An original pension is granted to Rebecca B. McConnaughy, Darlington, widow of John McConnaughy, late of Company E, Sixth Regiment West Virginia Infantry, under the new law. Mrs. McConnaughy was married on October 21, 1909 and therefore is not entitled to a pension under the general law which bars all Civil War widows who were married after 1905. But the widow is in poor health, is unable to earn a living, and no one is legally bound to her support. The act grants her a pension at the rate of $30 a month.

Censors Bar Film Exhibited In 1893

"Gay Nineties" Are Given Knockout Blow By Wild Modern Age

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—The "gay nineties" turned over in the grave today and advised the age of knee-length dresses and one-piece bathing suits to "laugh that off".

A movie, exhibited in all parts of the country 35 years ago, was barred from New York state theaters by the board of censors today because it is "indecent" and "suggestive".

The ancient film was resurrected by an art group which plans to present a series of old pictures portraying the development of motion pictures. Jen Leroy, a collector, is the owner.

"Fatima" is the title of the 200-foot sequence and its subject is an oriental dancer who made quite an impression at the world's fair in Chicago.

The film, one of the earliest produced in this country, was widely exhibited in 1893 and, it is said, was an important factor in increasing the interest in motion pictures.

Charles W. Hanna Discharged From Army Service

New Castle Youth Is Released From Enlistment At Request Of Parents

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—Because his parents are dependent upon him for support, Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls, has obtained the discharge from the army of Private Charles W. Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hanna of R. F. D. No. 2, New Castle.

Hanna was stationed at Camp Holabird, Md., with Company A, Fourth Motor Repair Battallion. Congressman Swick presented the request for his discharge to the Secretary of War who immediately ordered Hanna's discharge.

Congressman Swick has obtained a pension at the rate of $30 a month for William Bean of Rochester, Pa., who served in Company B, Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry during the Spanish-American War.

Jeff McMichael Some Fisherman

Capturing Laurels As Trout Fisherman Out At San Bernardino

In a letter received by a local friend, T. J. (Jeff) McMichael, well known bricklayer and former resident of this city, who has been located in San Bernardino, California for quite an extended period of time, states he is getting along fine, also that his family is enjoying the best of health.

According to Mr. Michael, brick work is rather slack at the present time in that district, although there is considerable building going on. The buildings being erected are largely of concrete or frame construction.

The letter states that he managed to keep busy by hunting, fishing and visiting places of interest. He enclosed a newspaper clipping showing that he is some fisherman. He caught the largest trout of the present season there, it weighing four pounds and four ounces. It was caught in what is known as Big Bear Lake. He won a ten dollar prize fly rod for capturing this large trout.

Mr. and Mrs. McMichael and family will return to this city probably some time in the late summer or early fall. He sends his respects to all his friends and acquaintances in this city.

American Girls Cause Envoy Great Anguish

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent to Central Press and New Castle News

WASHINGTON, May 20.—King George and Queen Mary played a mean trick on Alanson B. Houghton, our ambassador in London, when they tacked five extra "courts" onto their regular schedule for this season.

Choosing the mere corporal's guard of American women who are all he's allowed to nominate for "presentation" at these functions, out of the large army of candidates for the honor, is the awfulest job the United States diplomatic representative at the British capital has to handle.

Just as he thought he had finished with it for the current year, here Houghton's stuck for an overflow series of the cussed affairs, lasting up to and including June 13—the longest-drawn-out period of such agony on record.

The State Department knows exactly how the ambassador and all his underlings feel about it, because plenty of its personnel have been attached to the London embassy in various secretarial capacities, and realize what horrors its staff must be undergoing, from past personal experience.

There was some snickering in the department when news first arrived of the unusual prolongation of the "season", but the older and higher-up officials soon hushed it. It was a moment for deep sympathy, they said—not for heartless laughter.

Besides, the slightest mistake on the ambassador's part in denying a "presentation" to some woman who really ought to have been "presented" always is liable to be followed by an unpleasant political "repercussion" here at home—and that isn't a bit funny. Cases are on record where it's affected promotions, or raised difficulties in the way of Senate confirmations of appointments.

There isn't a hard-and-fast limit on the number of his country-women an ambassador may ask to have "presented" to their Britannic majesties. It would be almost better if there were. Then he could put it on a first-come-first-served basis. But he can't expect to average more than about a dozen per "court"—and he always has hundreds of applicants.

Those who positively must be "presented" usually pretty well exhaust his quota.

Yet the others seldom are from walks in life which make it safe for him to turn up his nose at 'em. They generally have men folks with millions and lots of influence. Their wives and daughters turned down, they raise Cain—cable to their senators, let alone their congressmen—roar to the secretary of state—sometimes invoke the President—threaten—kick up the very devil.

Then again, Queen Mary, especially, is mighty particular.

For instance, the ambassador who stood sponsor for a divorcee at one of her "courts" might just as well send his resignation in with her—he'd be persona non grata thenceforward forevermore.

Now there are quite a few American divorcees who think they're some pumpkins and wouldn't like it to have their ambassador tell 'em, "Sorry, ladies, but you stand no show at the court of St. James—with you matrimonial records."

Thus it will be seen that our envoy on the Thames gets a great sufficiency of "courts" without five "extras" wished upon him at the end of the "season" for good measure.

It's easier work patching up differences of opinion between the Japanese and two kinds of Chinamen at Tsinanfu.

Owing To Bad Weather Saturday Evening, Community Chest Parade Goes On Tonight

Chairman McLaughlin To Give Address In Front Of Central Building

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Owing to inclement weather it was impossible to conduct the annual Community Chest parade Saturday evening, and it will take place this evening.

The parade will form on Spring avenue below Fifth street and include all the officials of the city, various members of civic organizations, members of beneficiary organizations and a feature float depicting the 1923 chest which will be drawn through the principal streets of the town, finally coming to rest on the lawn of the Central school building, there to be theoretically filled by the spirit of 1927, which so victoriously carried the last year's campaign over the top.

Chairman McLaughlin, general director of this year's campaign, will give an address at the close of the parade, and a thermometer has been erected to state accurately the donations into the chest day by day.

Each evening this week starting at 7:30 an open air free entertainment will be given in front of the Central school building. Tonight's program will feature the Trinity A. M. E. singers, who need no introduction to lovers of negro spiritual and camp meeting songs.

Every merchant, business house and office will be visited by the merchants committee, which is headed by A. F. Conner, president of the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—The baccalaureate sermon for the members of the graduating class of the senior high school will take place Sunday evening May 27 in the Liberty theater. This will be in the nature of a community service for all churches. Rev. Clyde Xander of Thiel college will preach the sermon.

Annual Banquet At Bell Memorial Church Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Members of the Bell Memorial church will enjoy the annual mothers and daughters banquet Thursday evening in the church. Class 17 is in charge of the arrangements and members of the young men's classes will serve the menu.

The address of the evening will be made by Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Wednesday evening of this week there will be the regular weekly prayer service in the church.

Congressman Swick To Deliver Address On Memorial Day

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—A feature of the Memorial Day program which is being arranged by the patriotic organizations of the city will be the address which will be delivered by Congressman Swick of this district.

The day's program will open with a parade and services at the Fifth street bridge at which time the address will be made and a gun salute fired to the departed soldiers. The graves in the local cemeteries will be duly decorated also on this day.

Arthur B. Martin Dies, Sunday, Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Arthur B. Martin of Hazel avenue passed away Sunday morning at his home. He was 36 years of age and had been ailing for some time. He is survived by his widow and seven children.

Funeral services will take place Wednesday morning from St. Agatha's church. Interment will be made in St. Agatha's cemetery.

Funeral Services For Joseph Pizor

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Funeral services for Joseph Pizor, aged 73 years, who passed away in Battle Creek, Mich., will take place Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Bell Memorial church with Rev. John King officiating.

The deceased was a resident of this city for 35 years, spending his last years with a daughter in Battle Creek. He became ill about a month ago and was removed to the Nickolas Memorial hospital, where he died on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock.

He is survived by one son, Madison, of this city, and three daughters: Mrs. Elizabeth Parkey of Battle Creek, Mrs. Zella Humphrey of New Castle. His wife preceded him in death about four years ago. Interment will take place in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

Concert At The Country Club Is Highly Enjoyed

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—A feature of the afternoon at the Country Club yesterday, and a part of its formal opening was the appearance of Oliver Harris and Alfred Hutchinson, basso and tenor respectively of the Presbyterian quartett, who sang several popular numbers during the dinner hour in the lounge of the club.

The pair were well received and highly applauded for their renditions of close harmony. Miss Jean Helling assisted greatly at the piano. The trio made such an impression that they have been asked to appear at various times during the summer months for Sunday afternoon concerts at the club.

Local Republicans Attend Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—R. T. Brown, Mrs. Edna Wilkenson, James Camp, H. J. Plante and C. C. Davidson represented this city at a meeting of the Republican county committee meeting conducted Saturday afternoon in New Castle. William Eakin of New Castle, conducted the meeting, succeeding C. H. Young.

Let Contract On Addition To Local Hospital

Accept Bid Of $96,495 Made By McDanel Company; Total Cost $125,000

Addition Will Be Three-Story Structure, Greatly Relieving Present Conditions

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21. — The general contract for the proposed addition to the Ellwood City hospital has been awarded to R. B. McDanel company of New Brighton for the sum of $96,495. This sum does not cover the cost of an elevator, lighting fixtures, floor coverings and architects commission, which are expected to bring the entire cost to approximately $125,000. The hospital board, headed by Dr. Charles Bell, awarded the contract on the recommendation of the building committee, headed by J. W. Offutt.

With this addition, which will be financed by the Community Chest drive, congested conditions existing at the present time in the hospital will be greatly relieved, giving the city an institution of which it may well be proud. The finished structure will be of brick construction with stone trim.

Presbyterian Church Program

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21. —Sunday morning members of the Presbyterian church witnessed the formal installation of new elders: H. W. Smith, W. A. Kerr and John G. Cobler. Two beautiful anthems marked the service, and an impressive service was presented throughout.

Activities in the church this week are announced as follows: Wednesday evening, members of the C. A. Martin class will have their monthly tureen dinner and business meeting. Prayer meeting at 7:45 p. m., to be followed by a meeting of the board of trustees.

Members of the Women's Missionary Society will conduct their monthly meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The tureen meeting has been postponed on account of the illness of Mrs. R. B. Curry.

Thursday afternoon at 4:30 members of the Junior orchestra will meet. At 7 o'clock p. m. members of the Senior orchestra will rehearse.

Plan Funeral For Joseph Farino

Ellwood Youth Killed In Fireworks Explosion At Bridgeport, Pa.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—The body of Joseph Farino, aged 20, of this city, who was killed in a fireworks explosion at Bridgeport, Pa., on Friday, will arrive at the home of his mother, Mrs. Casto Leone, on Hazel avenue, today.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning at 8:30 from the Italian Catholic church. The body will be accompanied by the widow and baby of the deceased. Interment will be made in Locust Grove cemetery.

Young Farino lived in this city until a year ago when he accepted a position with the Fireworks company. His father preceded him in death about five years ago, a peculiar coincidence being that he also met his death in a fireworks explosion in Youngstown.

Additional survivors are five sisters: Mrs. Virginia Gentile, Detroit; Mrs. Martha Minella, Sharon, and Misses Mary, Jean and Christine and Frank and Sylvester Farino at home.

Legion Announces Post Activities

Memorial Day Services At Lutheran Church May 27 At 10:30 A. M. Is Plan

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—This evening the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion will take place in the Legion quarters on Sixth street. This will be the last regular monthly meeting until fall. Other meetings during the summer months will be by special call only. Routine business will be transacted and refreshments served.

Sunday morning, May 27, there will be special memorial services by the post at the Trinity Lutheran church. All members are asked to assemble at the Legion rooms at 10:15 a. m. and march to the church in a body.

Wednesday, May 30, has been set aside for the Mememorial Day exercises. Members are asked to be at the Legion rooms at 9:15 a. m. The Bugle and Drum Corps will have a special part in the parade and other exercises.

The Gas Carriage

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—An interesting document was loaned to an official of the Ellwood City Motor club recently by I. S. Foust of Glenn avenue entitled "The Horseless Age", a magazine printed July 24, 1901, depicting the timid debut of the horseless carriage.

Several now prominent companies carried advertisements in the magazine, which was printed in New York. Prominently mentioned is the American Automobile club, which was probably the first of its kind. The club conducted a speed contest at that time and promptly disqualified any entrant who exceeded the speed limit of 15 miles an hour.

It is interesting to note that several companies then in power have since gone down before the progress of time, while the well-known names of present manufacturers can be seen on its pages. One advertisement urges "Equip your gas carriage with a top". A for sale ad states "1900 Winton, practically new, was run 400 miles by William Rockfeller and less than 200 miles by the undersigned". This latter is a most interesting revelation in the light of the present day age when the average automobile is not considered sufficiently broken in until the speedometer shows at least 10,000 miles.

Another company advertises the "Auto Bell", a contraption built on the gong order and operated by a push button in the floor of the gas carriage. Another advertiser tempts the motor owner by proclaiming that "Sparking Plugs" can be purchased for $1.05 by mail.

At last, but not least, one of the leading automobile companies of today appeared with a statement and accompanying photograph, telling the world that their car had been awarded the official blue ribbon for a perfect run of 100 miles without a stop, and an average time of 15 miles per hours in a heavy wind and rain storm.

The above facts may not interest the old timers who can recall the first horseless carriage, but will no doubt open the eyes of the younger generation who are accustomed to driving hundreds of miles in a few hours on paved roads to a dance or road house.

Lutherans Will Not Have Evening Summer Services

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21. — Last evening's service was the final one for the summer months in the Trinity Lutheran church. This action was decided at a recent meeting of the church council.

Next Sunday morning the Memorial Day address will be preached from the Lutheran pulpit.

This evening members of the Brotherhood Bible class will conduct a monthly meeting.

Mothers-Daughters Banquet Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—The annual Mothers and Daughters banquet at the First Presbyterian church will take place Friday of this week in the church dining room. The menu will be served by the men of the church and Mrs. Thomas Jones is in charge of the program.

IMPROVING.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—The condition of Miss Gertrude Zeigler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zigler of Spring avenue who is confined to the Shenango Valley hospital in New Castle is said to be improving. A successful blood-transfusion was transacted Friday evening and another may be necessary before Miss Zeigler is out of danger it is reported.

Honors Conferred On Wampum Boy

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Word has been received by relatives here that Edward Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Butler of Wampum, who is attending Cornell university, has been elected to the membership of the Cleft club, an honorary musical organization of that college, and was presented a key in appreciation of work done in the various musical clubs of the institution. Mr. Butler plays the durms and is a member of the university band and the Symphony orchestra.

The membership is a high honor which is conferred on very few upperclassmen yearly.

FAREWELL DINNER TO LOCAL COUPLE

ELLWOOD CITY May 21—Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Macgeorge of the First Baptist church will be honor guests Tuesday night at a dinner party given in the Trinity Lutheran church by members of the Ministerial association.

An informal program will be carried out and Rev. A. M. Stevenson and Rev. L. J. Baker are in charge of the affair.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Loring Gelbach returned Sunday morning from a trip to Atlantic City.

B. J. Bell of Glen avenue left Sunday evening on a business trip to Charlestown, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Haines were Beaver Falls visitors Sunday evening.

M. A. Bickett of Orchard avenue is confined to his home by illness.

Commencement Week Program

Schedule Of Ellwood City High Graduation Week Events

PRESENT DIPLOMAS TO CLASS JUNE 1

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Activities of the graduating class of the high school during commencement week are announced as follows:

Monday evening, May 28, 14 members of the Senior class will present the play "A Full House" at the Liberty theater under the direction of Miss Lucille Gibson of the English department.

Tuesday evening, May 29 is class night and a program will be presented in the gymnasium of the Lincoln Junior high school.

Thursday evening, May 31 the annual Junior-Senior banquet will be served in the dining room of the Methodist church.

Friday evening, June 1 the commencement program will be presented in the Liberty theater with Dr. Clyde Xander of Thiel college giving the address.

Addison C. Wiley Succombs To Death

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Addison C. Wiley, aged 77, of Wiley Hill, died at his residence Sunday evening after an illness of some duration.

Mr. Wiley had been a lifelong resident of this vicinity and was well known. He is survived by his widow. Funeral services will take place Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence. Interment will be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Elect Eakin As Party Chairman

Republican County Committee Meets And Organizes On Saturday

WOMEN ARE GIVEN SOME OF OFFICES

Organization of the Republican county committee for the ensuing year was effected Saturday afternoon in the main courtroom of the Lawrence county courthouse.

Fifty-nine committeemen were present representing various sections of the county, a majority being from the city.

Election of W. A. Eakin a former county chairman, to the post of county chairman for the next two years was unanimous. Other officers elected were accorded the same approval.

Resolutions endorsing the various state, congressional and local nominees of the Republican party at the recent primary had been prepared and at the conclusion of the election of officers were adopted.

The question of filling vacancies and selecting committeemen where there were ties brought up by C. H. Young the retiring chairman, who presented a motion that the chairman be empowered to fill the vacancies and adjustt he situations where there were ties. The motion resulted in some discussion, the question arising as to what should be done where the appointment should more or less properly be that of a woman. The discussion resulted in the understanding that the chairman should consult with those most interested, in solving such an important appointment. With this understanding the motion was approved.

Thirteen Women Present.

There were thirteen women in attendance as committee members and they had a more or less active part in the proceedings.

It developed in calling the names of the committeemen that there were two persons present by the name or Alex Thomas and that but one was entitled to a seat on the committee. On investigation it was found that Alex Thomas of the Second ward was the man entitled to the place on the committee and not Alex Thomas of Union township.

The meeting was called to order about 2 o'clock by Charles H. Young, retiring county chairman. He called upon Attorney Orville Brown, secretary of he previous committee to call the roll of the committeemen.

This done, the business of electing officers was undertaken. A. C. Hyde arose and stated that it was the time to elect a chairman for two years. That the coming election was important and that much depended on the organization and that the officers elected in turn would mean much in the effectiveness of the same. He thought that it would be wise to place a man in the position of chairman who was experienced and suggested the name of W. A. Eakin. No other names were offered and Mr. Eakin was elected by the unanimous vote of those present.

W. A. Eakin then assumed the duties of chairman, stating that while he was not seeking the office, that since he had been selected he would accept it as his duty as a Republican and perform the duty to the best of his ability.

Other Officers.

In turn the following officers were selected by unanimous vote. They are Mrs. Frank Brenneman as vice chairman, Attorney Orville Brown as secretary, Mrs. Caroline Hart as assistant secretary W. A. Brown of Wampum as treasurer.

H. P. McBride presented a resolution endorsing the national and state administrations and pledging the support of the local organization in the fall election to Hon. W. D. Porter, nominee for Supreme court judge ;General Edward Martin, nominee for state treasurer and Charles A. Waters, nominee for auditor general.

Alex Thomas presented a resolution pledging the support of the committee to the candidacy of David A. Reed, nominee for United States Senator and Dr. J. Howard Swick, nominee for congress in the 26th district. This as well as the preceding resolution were adopted unanimously.

W. A. Brown then presented a similar resolution pledging the support of the committee to George T. Weingartner, nominee for state senate in the Lawrence-Beaver district. Bart Richards, nominee for legislature in the first district and M. A. Bickett, nominee for legislature in the second district. This was also approved by all

Then followed the brief period during which various candidates and others were called upon to tell of the prospects of the coming election.

State Senator George T. Weingartner stated that he felt it a privilege to be present at such a harmonious reorganization of the county commitee. He felt it was an indication of united effort for the Republican ticket and urged the necessity of activity in supporting the candidates.

Assemblyman Bart Richards said it was a pleasure to attend as a nominee. He had done his best to represent the first district during his first term and hoped to do even better, if accorded the election. He expressed his pleasure in being pledged the support of the organization.

Mrs. Frank Brenneman vice chairman, expressed her pleasure at being the choice of the committee for vice chairman and stated that with such a choice lot of nominees all could support them and also help elect a good Republican president this fall.

Mrs. Caroline Hart assistant secretary, expressed her approval of the nominees and stated that all should be proud of an opportunity to elect such men as are on the ticket.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor thanked the commitee for the past courtesies extended her and stated that with the splendid ticket of the party that all should stand back of it and help elect those who have been accorded the nomination.

Attorney Clyde V. Alley spoke of the recent meeting of the state committee and urged the necessity of getting out a large vote.

Postmaster Edwin Crawford was then called and said that he was pleased with the evidence of harmony and urged the support of the Republican ticket.

R. T. (Dick) Brown of Ellwood City, stated that he was pleased with the attendance and the many evidences of interest. He said that with such an organization it would not be possible to fail and that the Republicans should win easily.

W. T. Burns, councilman, stated that he was pleased to see such a harmonious proceedings. He said that he could not agree with the suggestion that it would be possible to win hands down or easily. He urged that every Republican should be on the alert and not overconfident and do all possible for the ticket in the fall. Carl Davidson of Ellwood City was called but said that he had nothing to say at this time.

C. B. White, postmaster at New Wilmington stated that the ticket had his support in the fall and urged that everything possible for it be done.

J. W. Cox of Wilmington township, stated that there was every indication that there would be a close fight for president in the fall and it behooved all Republicans to be on the alert and do all possible for the ticket.

Attorney William McElwee stated that it was necessary to be well organized in order to get out the votes He stated that he had seen grudges develop in the past and contribute to the failure of candidates. He was glad to see harmony in the present organization he said and urged all to be active in getting out the vote.

Jeannette Shaffer of New Wilmington was called on and stated that the fact that she was present should be to her credit.

The Republican county committee for 1928, subject to such changes as the settling of tie votes and the filling of existing vacancies is as follows: First ward—first district—Elmer Tintsman and William Marshall; First ward—second district—John E. APRIL tops the Greatest 4 Months in Willys-Overland history

APRIL set a new high mark in Willys-Overland history for production and sales. It was more than 14.4% ahead of March—which showed a gain of 17% over the previous highest month for all time.

The first 4 months of 1928 were 36.7% greater than the corresponding months in 1927. And they were the greatest 4 months since the company has been in business.

Sales of the Whippet were 91% higher in February than in January. They were 44% greater in March than in February, and April was 17% ahead of March, and plant facilities are still being expanded to meet the increasing demand for this unprecedentedly popular car.

The Whippet price reductions, the recently announced low price of the Willys-Knight Standard Six, and the introduction of the new Whippet Six—the world's lowest priced six-cylinder automobile—have resulted in the greatest buying demand in the company's 20-year history.

Fifty Boys Sign Up For Y Camp

Fifty boys have already signed up to go to the Y. M. C. A. camp with the first section, which will start from New Castle July 5 and return July 19, according to Walter E. Kirker, physical director at the Y.

As there are accomodations for only 40 boys, the Y. M. C. A. is considering buying new equipment so that the others can be taken care of, states Mr. Kirker. It is thought that by the time the boys go to camp, the registration will have reached at least 60.

1,000 Moth Proof Clothes Bags FREE!

An Added Feature of Britton's Service To Make It Doubly Worth Your While To Have Your Winter Overcoat and Suit Dry Cleaned Before Putting Them Away.

DRY cleaning is a very effective preventive against moths. First, because it removes all the dust, dirt and embedded grime on which moths thrive. Second, because moths avoid the odor (imperceptible to human smell) of our new dry-cleaning solvent.

It is, therefore, a wise precaution to have all the winter clothes you have discarded thoroughly dry-cleaned. They will not only be made safe against the ravages of moths but they will be ready for wear the day you need them.

As an added protection, we will return each garment sealed in a specially designed moth-proof bag of stout kraft paper. These bags cost us 20c each and we have only 1,000 in stock. They will be given FREE as long as the supply lasts.

In telephoning your order, please state that the garments are being cleaned before storing away, and you want them sealed in the moth-proof way.

Porter Attends State Meeting

Former Judge Present At Meeting Of State Democratic Committee

SAYS PARTY NOT UNIT FOR SMITH

While the Democratic state committee meeting in Harrisburg on Saturday was largely favorable to Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, for the Democratic nomination for president, it was not an unanimous feeling, according to Ex-Judge William E. Porter of this city, state committee man who attended the meeting.

The gathering was featured by the attempts to oust the Philadelphia delegation of sixteen members on the grounds of bi-partisan politics, and David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, who it was charged was not a regularly elected committeeman. Both attempts failed. The charge in the Philadelphia squabble was that the Democratic committeemen from that city are appointees of the Vare machine and therefore not qualified as genuine Democrats. The charge against Lawrence was that the man regularly elected had resigned, and had then appointed Lawrence in his place, a proceeding said to have been irregular.

Collins As Chairman.

John R. Collins of Coudersport, Pa., was elected as state chairman, succeeding Cornelius Haggerty of Philadelphia. Sedgwick Kistler of Lock Haven, Pa., was elected as national committeeman succeeding Joseph F. Guffy of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Catherine E. Flohr of Allentown, Pa., was elected vice chairman, and Mrs. Anna O'Day Murphy of Philadelphia elected as national committee woman.

The fight against the Philadelphia delegation and against Lawrence of Pittsburgh was led by Congressman Kent of Monroe county, but following the settling of the questions harmony was apparent. Kent and Lawrence were named as a committee to escort the new chairman to the platform and shook hands cordially as they did so.

Ejector Station To Cost $10,000

Will Serve Area South Of Montgomery And Lacock Streets

As soon as an enabling ordinance is passed the city will acquire the Sheehy lot in the Seventh ward and a new ejector station which will cost probably $10,000 will be erected and the present ejector station shut down.

The new ejector station will not only serve the section now served by the present station but also the area situated south of Montgomery and Lacock streets.

City Engineer Franklin Miller today stated that the one ejector station as contemplated will be operated more economically than the two.

Continue Clinic For Two Weeks At Bessemer

The Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross has been conducting a baby clinic at Bessemer every Tuesday, and this will be continued two more weeks, namely the 22nd and 29th.

The clinic is held in the grade school building and is in charge of Frank Campbell of Bessemer with Miss Kathryn Hite, nurse for the local chapter assisting. The hour is 10 a. m. These clinics have been well attended, and parents are urged to take full advantage of the splendid opportunity these clinics afford in promoting the health of their children.

Toxin Anti-Toxin immunization is also given children of pre-school age, and it is particularly urged that this be taken immediate advantage of.

Barteaux Explains Account Involved In Stoughton Will

Says He Was Left Life Interest In Estate—Order Of Sale Is Revoked

In the estate of Jennie H. Stoughton, in which a petition was presented to court asking that a proposed sale of property on Hiram Way be stayed pending a hearing, Judson Barteaux, executor filed an answer in court this morning in which he denies that Jennie H. Stoughton died intestate as to the property which it was proposed to sell. He says that a will was left in which he was left a life interest in the estate.

By the terms of the will he claims that Clara M. Ellis, Roberta Estep, Nettie Lutton and Pearl Hustin, sisters of decedent, have no interest in the estate. He further claims that the balance due the accountant, as shown by his partial account, is for money which he had loaned decedent for the payment of hospital bills, taxes and other items.

Barteaux says that he now finds that there is no lien upon which the Orphan's court would have jurisdiction to sell the property and asks that the order of sale be revoked, which the court has done.

Purse For Dilks Tuesday Night

New Castle Bunion Derby Racer To Be Honored By Citizens

Tuesday May 22 at 8 o'clock in the Scottish Rite Cathedral a ceremony in honor of E. Lin Dilks, New Castle's entry in the cross country marathon will take place under the direction of the New Castle Booster association according to Henry Belmar director of publicity for the Cathedral.

"This will be a home coming welcome to the man who represented our city in the long grind" comments Mr. Belmar. "It will be the city welcoming a man who has done much to spread the fame of New Castle across the continent. It will be a celebration which a civic booster cannot miss."

At this time a purse will be presented to the bunioneer by J. Garfield Davis chairman of the Dilks committee along with other gifts of the citizens.

POLICE REPORT ACCUSED MAN GOT BILLS HERE

Jim Stamatopoulos of Akron, O., arrested at Beaver, Pa., last Friday by secret service officers, was in this city previous to that and had obtained $20 bills from which he clipped the corners for the purpose of raising dollar bills, according to the information received here by the police authorities from the secret service department. He admitted having been here but did not pass any of the bills here.

Secret Service Agent Gruber was in this city and worked on the case, Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch being assigned to work with him by Chief of Police C. C. Horner.

It will be remembered that Chief Horner warned the public here to be on the lookout for raised bills, the day the bills were obtained at a bank here.

J. C. Chestnut Here On Visit

Was Manager Of New Castle Electric Company During War Period

J. C. Chestnut, manager of the New Castle Electric company in this city from 1914 to 1918, is a visitor here today after a long absence. For some years Mr. Chestnut has been with the Electrical Securities Corporation of New York, and has just completed the winding up of the affairs of the Masaba Range Railway company, in Minnesota.

After leaving New Castle, Mr. Chestnut went to Oklahoma and from there was sent to Minnesota. Modern highways, and the decrease in population so curtailed the activities of the road mentioned that it was put into the hands of a receiver, and this receivership was handled by Mr. Chestnut.

Modern mining methods have nearly depopulated some of the small villages, he said, the ten yard shovels now mining more ore than was mined ten years ago with twice as many men.

He expects to spend a little time here and will go on to New York City.

Tyler Returns To City Hall Duties

Councilman Attends Council Session At City Hall During Morning

NOT FULLY RECOVERED FROM LONG ILLNESS

Councilman Walter V. Tyler who has been ill for about two months was welcomed back to city hall by attaches and colleagues today and although the councilman is yet not fully recovered from his long siege he was able to perform his duties today and council had a full quorum.

The councilman said that the warm weather made him feel "like getting out" so he boarded a street car and arrived at the city building unannounced. As soon as colleagues and attaches saw him an impromptu reception was held as Mr. Tyler is popular with the employes of the city.

It is likely that the councilman will not be able to spend all of the day at the city building but is keeping in touch with movements through colleagues and will probably attend council sessions on days in which good weather prevails.

Three Injured In Auto Crash

Accident Occurs On Wilmington Road Near Shenango Church

ONE OF INJURED IS IN HOSPITAL

Three members of the family of Roy Fulkerson, rear 36 East street, were injured, one seriously, Sunday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, when the car in which they were enroute toward this city on the Wilmington road at the Shenango U. P. church, was struck by the car of N. F. Olz[illegible], 830 Park avenue, Ellwood City.

The Fulkerson car was badly damaged, the machine was damaged to some extent.

The injured are:

Roy Fulkerson, severe cuts about the head and face, in which 12 stitches were taken.

Raymond, a son, whose injuries were of such a serious nature that he had to be removed to the New Castle hospital, where 50 stitches were taken in cuts in forehead, the back of his head. His lip was also cut through and his tongue was cut. He is still in the hospital but improving.

Albert Fulkerson, another son, was bruised about the head and sustained some cuts. He was able to go home.

Danial Fulkerson, another son, who was driving the machine at the time of the accident, escaped all injury in a rather miraculous manner. The steering wheel was broken and the front of the car badly damaged, including the windshield, but he was uninjured.

Claim Children Will Make Too Much Noise

Two Persons Voice Protest Against City's Playground Plan

Two persons today appeared before members of council in meeting at the city hall and voiced protests to the location of a playground in the vicinity of Hanna and Morris streets on the ground that tin mill workers will not be able to sleep during the day time.

One of the protestants stated that a house had been vacated due to this reason. Another declared that the noise will prevent sleep.

According to a member of council there is every indication of differences between certain parties in the vicinity. The ground, owned by Golis, which it is proposed to buy has not yet been purchased.

An ordinance providing for its acquirement by the city is now in committee.

Special Services At Neshannock Church

Dr. Peacock Opens A Series Of Two Weeks Services Yesterday

A series of two weeks evangelistic services were started Sunday at the Neshannock United Presbyterian church near the New Castle Fair Grounds, with Luther K. Peacock as evangelist.

A crowded house met Dr. Peacock at bothe Sunday morning and evening services and a good interest was shown. In the morning the evangelist's theme was "Prayer" and in the evening he spoke on "The New Birth." Special singing was led by Dr. Peacock at both services.

Meetings will be held each evening during the next two weeks except Saturday evening. Services will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

W. L. Treadwell, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months on a charge of possessing liquor, was paroled by Judge Hildebrand this morning upon the payment of the fine and costs. He had served one month of his sentence.

Controversy Over Italian Bonds Left At Bank Is Heard

Claimed That They Were Not Found Among Assets Of The First State Bank

Hearing was held before Judge Hildebrand in court this morning in the case of Anna Nocera against Peter G. Cameron, in charge of the affairs of the First State Bank.

The case is one in which Mrs. Nocera claims that she left certain Italian bonds with the bank for safe keeping. When the case was tried in court a verdict for the plaintiff was rendered for about $1,100.

In the account filed by Cameron no provision was made for the payment of this verdict. It was claimed by the banking examiner that the bonds never came into his possession, and therefore he was not justified in paying. It is admitted by both sides to the controversy that the bonds were left at the bank. One of the witnesses testified at the trial that he saw an entry of the bonds on a book, but when the banking examiner took charge it is claimed that there was no such entry to be found. The question involved seems to be whether or not the banking examiner found the bonds when he took charge.

George M. Kennedy, who checked over the securities found in the bank vaults, presented a book at the hearing and testified that there was no record of the bonds in the book, and that they were not found in the vaults. It was about four days after the bank was closed that Kennedy did the checking.

The court will hand down an opinion later.

Cars In Accident Saturday Night

C. L. Davis Injured When Collision Occurs Near His Home —Driver Gives Explanation

A. C. Foringer, 1007 Beckford St., was seated in his car, about midnight Saturday, his machine being parked on East Washington street, near Warren avenue, and Clarence L. Davis of 1611 East Washington street, had his foot up on his running board and was talking to him, when a car bearing Ohio license 483-708, driven by D. F. Welsh, 309 East Falls street, going east, ran into the Foringer car. The Foringer car was knocked several feet and damaged, while Mr. Davis was thrown something like ten feet and sustained severe injuries of the elbow of the right arm.

The Ohio license car continued across the street and struck a milk truck, doing some damage to it. The car then went on about a block, when a Pennsylvania license car driven by C. Evan Campbell of Ellwood City, stopped and took the people from the Ohio license car and went on.

The police investigation has developed the fact that the Ohio license car belongs to a man from Ohio who is employed on a local bank building. They had a lady visitor from Ohio over the week-end and loaned their car that the lady might be taken to Cascade Park. While at the park, the lady visitor was taken sick and they were rushing her to the home of her friend, when the accident occurred. Welsh, driver of the Ohio license car stated to the police that he looked back to see what the condition of the woman was and when he did so, the car went across the street and hit the Foringer car before he could regain control. His machine was damaged and the other machine that picked them up, were friends that had been with them to the park.

Hall To Speak At Union City

Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange, will go to Union City Wednesday, June 6, where he will speak to the Golden Rule club in the interests of the credit exchange.

For a long time, Union City has been trying to organize a credit bureau, states Mr. Hall. In his speech he will tell about the workings of the New Castle exchange and outline a plan whereby a bureau for Union City can be organized.

Thelma Heath of 221 North Ray street fell into the manhole of the sewer at Scott and Elder streets Sunday, while crossing the street, and had her legs severely injured, according to the report made to the police. Officer Dukes was detailed and found that Miss Heath had stepped on the manhole cover to avoid some mud and was precipitated into the manhole. Officer Dukes found the manhole cover broken.

City Council Buys Roller

Expenditure Of $2,875 Necessary, Colleagues Told By Reeves

Council today let a contract to the Galion Iron Works & Manufacturing company, Galion, O., for a new roller at a bid of $2,785, by a four to one vote, the negative ballot being cast by Councilman Burns.

The roller will be seven tons, air compressure scarfire with a plainer and was recommended by Councilman Clayton Reeves, who informed colleagues that the roller is an absolute necessity here and had been provided for when compiling the budget.

Some of the bids presented to council were as high as $4,900, but Reeves stated that the type he recommended would answer the city's requirements and would go far toward remedying conditions which now exist.

While in committee Reeves recommended that the roller be purchased and the report was made by Councilman Davies. The recommendation was made by a three to two vote, Davies, Reeves and Tyler voting favorably and the mayor and Burns negatively.

"I am sorry I cannot support the recommendation," said Burns. "We have spent more than $17,000, for new equipment.

"This month we had $25,000, less, though the taxes increased $40,000 in April.

"The city is running behind because so many bills from last year fall due this year, therefore I do not believe we should spend the money." He voted according to his convictions.

Reeves replied to Burns, stating: "It is an absolute necessity that a roller be secured if we are take care of the streets.

"We have nothing which is worthwhile in the street department to take care of the situation and the money was appropriated for the roller in the budget.

"The purchase of this roller is justified by the necessity of a roller."

Mayor Gillespie followed Reeves by stating that "If there is a way to pay for it I am not opposed to it."

"We have an appropriation for a sweeper, too," said Burns.

"I am not asking for a sweeper now," replied Reeves suggesting to the chairman: "Let us vote on the roller."

The vote was four to one, Burns casting a "No."

Civic Music Week To Be Launched

New Castle Civic Music week will be officially launched Tuesday evening, May 22, at 6:30, when a dinner meeting will take place in the east dining room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, and when approximately 100 men and women from the various civic organizations will assemble to perfect final plans for the membership campaign which will be conducted this week.

William S. Wright, national director of organization and publicity of the Civic Concert association of Chicago, originators and organizers of the Civic Music associations, arrived in New Castle this morning from Pittsburgh. At ten o'clock he met with several of the captains and team workers at campaign headquarters at 114 North Mercer street. With application cards, the workers started out to get as many memberships as possible before the meeting Tuesday evening so as to give an added impetus to the campaign.

At the dinner Tuesday evening, Mr. Wright will give a brief of the history and development of the Civic Music association idea and also outline a successful plan for putting over the membership in New Castle. He also addressed the Rotary club at noon today.

Mr. Wright will remain throughout the week, assisting the local organization. Memberships in the association, he states, are set at $5 yearly for adults and $3.50 for students. Special provisions are also being made for the matinee performances to be held in the schools of the city.

Requests New Traffic Light

Horace A. Rugh, 413 North Jefferson street, today appeared before city council which sat in formal session at the city building and after presenting a petition signed by property-owners, pointed out that conditions require a traffic light at the intersection of North Jefferson street and Wallace avenue.

He said that the petition had been signed by practically all property-owners in the vicinity and said they feel that a light is an absolute necessity.

About a year ago Mrs. Rugh was injured and yesterday another lady was hurt, he informed the councilmen.

Rugh pointed out that four way traffic operates at the intersection and that New Wilmington-New Castle traffic is heavy.

Councilman Reeves told Rugh that he believes a light is necessary and Councilman Davies took a forward step by referring the petition to the chief of police for a recommendation and a report.

A new fabric, made of cotton lint and corn stalks was explained to local merchants and the members of the New Castle Cleaners and Dyers association by Leo Hubbard, chemist, this morning in the directors room of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was attended by Frank Weller of Sharon, national president of the Cleaners and Dyers association, and sponsored by the local association.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Affair At Slim Buttes

IN THE CAPTURED SIOUX VILLAGE AT SLIM BUTTES, MAJOR MILLS AND HIS TROOPERS RECOVERED MANY ARTICLES THAT THE INDIANS HAD TAKEN FROM THE BODIES OF CUSTER'S MEN.

AMERICAN HORSE, ONE OF SITTING BULL'S MOST PROMINENT CHIEFS, FLEEING FROM THE "LONGSWORDS", WAS TRAPPED IN A CAVE WITH A FEW WARRIORS AND SQUAWS. CALLED UPON TO SURRENDER, HE RESISTED BRAVELY AND WAS SLAIN BY THE FIRE OF TROOPERS AND SCOUTS.

LEARNING FROM MILLS THAT THERE WAS ABUNDANT FOOD AND FORAGE AT SLIM BUTTES, GEN. CROOK MADE A FORCED MARCH TO THAT PLACE WITH HIS HALF-STARVED SOLDIERS AND ARRIVED IN TIME TO BEAT OFF CRAZY HORSE AND A LARGE BODY OF SIOUX WHO SOUGHT TO RECOVER THE VILLAGE.

FROM THE REPORTS OF FUGITIVES, CRAZY HORSE HAD EXPECTED TO OVERWHELM MILLS'S SMALL FORCE WITH EASE AND WAS DUMBFOUNDED TO FIND HIMSELF OPPOSED BY CROOK'S WHOLE COMMAND. AFTER A BRISK ENCOUNTER, THE SIOUX BRAVES RETREATED AND SCATTERED AMONG THE HILLS.

New Castle Beats Grays In Thrilling Game 5 To 3

M'Cullough's Double Scores Winning Run

Homestead Grays Get Three-Run Edge, But New Castle Finds Streeter's Range In Eighth And Before Inning Is Finished New Castle Wins Game; Morley Has Best Of Colored Ace In Great Pitching Duel; Game Is Replete With Bang-Up Play And Tilt Is Over In One Hour, 30 Minutes; 1,500 Fans Witness Game

By ED. FRITZ

Hearts beat fast and the pulse of fandom warmed to the New Castle club Saturday afternoon when the O & P aggregation, piloted by George Textor turned in a 5-3 victory over the celebrated Grays of Homestead. Morley pitched against the colored ace, Streeter and he had the best of the duel and when it was necessary for his teammates to come through with hits they climbed forth with their sticks in the eight and as the result of bang-up baseball New Castle won.

True it is things appeared mighty dark in the third inning when Sankey McCullough booted V. Harris slow grounder to third and paved the way for two runs but McCullough more than redeemed himself in the eight by driving a two base hit to left field that scored Leonard and Grimes, giving New Castle a one run advantage, 4-3, and enough to win. Shannon up next doubled to left and scored McCullough.

It was a game which was played in one hour and thirty minutes, record-breaking time; a tilt in which there were no outburst of temperament but players straining every nerve to win as the three game series between the teams now stands deadlocked. The fans for the first time this season showed a lot of "pep" and with sunshine beating down on the field the contest was brimful of snap.

Morley Goes Good

Morley turned in a great game. Although he started off with a wild pitch that sent V. Harris to first, he pulled in the slack, mixed the fast ones with the slow breakers, had the ball hopping like a toad and curved the ball around the Gray necks. He extended only two bases on balls, allowed seven hits and struck out seven and the same number of batters hit balls into the air that resulted in easy outs.

Streeter hurled a beautiful game until his range was found in the eight and the colored ace deserves a lot of credit as the New Castle team possesses hitting ability. He struck out five, allowed one free pass and was found for 10 hits, and ten passed out by flying to the outfield. But it was Streeter himself which started his own downfall and it came in the eight.

Everybody Hits!

Morley up first, struck out and Kenny Trinsi followed with three strikes. Hogan was more fortunate and singled to left field. Leonard found the range and sent Hogan to third with a single to right. The crowd of 1500 yelled for Grimes to bring the runners in as the score stood three to one in the Grays favor. Grimes drove a hot grounder to Streeter which he couldn't hold and Hogan scored.

Streeter bore down when McCullough went to bat and Sankey caught the ball on the nose and it followed the left field line for a double, scoring Leonard and Grimes. Pandemonium broke forth and the Grays went into a rout when Shannon, batting righhanded, drove a left scoring McCullough with the fifth run which was one more than sufficient to win.

Canton Fails To Solve Coen When Hits Mean Runs

PLAY BEAVER FALLS ELKS HERE WEDNESDAY

CANTON, May 21.—Jewie Coen went on the firing line for the Centennials yesterday afternoon and outpitched Vittorela, who went six sessions, and Lash, who twirled the last three frames. The score was 8 to 4.

Canton could not locate Coen's delivery for bunched hits when they would have meant runs and two of the tallies chalked against Canton were the result of errors. Vittorela and Lash were found at opportune times and Arndt featured with a home run over the right field fence in the second.

Wednesday evening at New Castle the Beaver Falls Elks will play New Castle at Centennial field. The box score:

One Bunion Derby Enough

Strain Of Daily Grind On Runners In Transcontinental Race Believed Sufficient To Kill Prospects For Annual Event

By BILL RITT
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

NEW YORK, May 21.—The strangest spectacle American sport fans have seen since the day Jess Willard won the title of being the best and biggest fighter in the world, comes to an end as the last callous-ridden bunioneer in Charley Pyle's cross-country pack wearily drags his aching dogs into the cool confines of the Yankee stadium and calls it a day, or rather, a year.

Not until the race actually began did many of the good folk of America believe that anyone would actually submit to the terrible ordeal of plodding thousands of miles at a fast pace over desert sands and mountain trails just to gain the possibility of winning a prize.

But youth, as Charley Pyle, the promoter, well knows, will try anything once, and thus it was that a band of several hundred young men started on the fearful grind last March. By the time the runners had entered the fringe of the eastern states their numbers had dwindled to a bit more than two score.

Illness, accident and weariness had removed all the remainder.

The net benefit of the race to the sports world in general is absolutely nil unless one counts the new words added to the slang dictionary, such as "bunioneer," puppy pounder" and the like.

The runners, having competed in a race in which the prize is a monetary one, are professionals, and never can be used in Olympic marathons and the like.

Unfortunately—for Pyle at least—some of the most colorful and outstanding ataletes in the race dropped out long ago due to illness, flat feet and other handicaps of a transcontinental race, leaving the grind to men of lesser renown if of more endurance.

The race was to be the first of a series of annual runs, but whether Pyle holds another next year is extremely doubtful. His plunge into professional tennis was to be permanent, but after one big season the paid players are no longer heard from.

The trouble with Pyle's race is that it was too long to be taken seriously. There is a drama in a 100-yard dash and even a short cross-country sprint, but a race that goes on for months and months becomes, to the people in general, a thing of humor and the butt of many jokes.

However, it's probably no joke to the runners who were injured by autos, to the exhausted boys who dropped by the wayside all along the route and to the unfortunates who almost got there and then didn't.

Marathon Runners Have 72 Miles To Make Today

By LELAND C. LEWIS
International News Service Special Correspondent

WAVERLY, N. Y., May 21.—Somewhat bedraggled, but with determination unwavering, C. C. "Cross-Country" Pyle's highway harriers turned their steps eastward from here today for Deposit, 72 miles away, the longest and perhaps the most arduous day's going since they left Los Angeles March 4.

Heading the big parade was Andy Payne, the farmer boy from Claremore, Oklahoma, who has traversed 3,155.77 miles in 523:05:08. This gives him a lead of 17:53:19 over John Salo, Passaic, N. J., Finnish-American, who is entrenched in second place. Yesterday's 58.3 miles from Bath to Waverly added another test for the heel-and-toe caravan who have defied mountain, desert, prairie and hills with every imaginable change in weather and climatic conditions.

Paul Simpson, North Carolina collegian, was first for the day in 8:57:10, fifty minutes and twenty-three seconds ahead of Payne, Salo and Seth Gonzales, Denver, who tied for second. Rain in intermittent near-cloudbursts drenched the course through the midnight deadline.

Trainers hastened back and forth over the route with dry toggery and oilskins for their runners. Many sacrificed valuable time to seek refuge from driving rain in farm houses and roadside shops.

Other controls for the week were announced this morning as follows: Middletown tomorrow and Suffern, N. Y., Wednesday. Passaic, N. J., may be included in the last laps to give citizens there an opportunity to see their favorite, Salo, in action.

Giusto Umek, Italian ace, limping slightly from a hip that has held him back for three days, finished 32nd in 14:39:35, keeping sixth place by 10 minutes, 4 seconds over William Kerr, Minnesota.

Mandell-McLarnin To Battle Tonight In New York Ring

Weatherman Promises Fair Skies For Meeting Of Lightweights For Title

Bout Postponed On Three Previous Occasions; Mandell Favored

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, May 21.—Mr. Finnegan's favorite off-and-on motto will have to go for a trip to the job printer's for a fourth edition, if Sammy Mandell, champion, and Jimmy McLarnin, challenger, again are unable to have at it for the lightweight championship of the world at the Polo Grounds tonight. Three consecutive postponements of the fifteen round issue have carried the matter from the dramatic to the serio-comic, and, if the weather doesn't abandon its buffoonery by tonight, the folks will begin asking why they had to bring this business up in the first place.

Fair and warmer was the weather bureau's forecast for tonight, this outlook probably being predicated on the notion that even a weather prophet can't be wrong all the time.

The continued postponements likewise have affected "form" on the bout to the extent that no one knows just how the principals are laughing off the exigencies of daily prepping for an altercation that only threatens to take place. Advordupois, a ten dollar word meaning brewery fat, may yet take charge of the situation, for Mandell and McLarnin made the required 135 pounds on Thursday, were ready presumably to do so on Saturday and must out-point the Fairbanks system again this afternoon.

Mandell Favored

The chronic weight-making is generally understood to be irking, the champion more than the challenger, who is alleged to have done 134 at a local gymnasium on Saturday. Yet the odds haven't altered, Mandell remaining a fixed favorite at seven and six to five.

The half million dollars, riding with the result, has not been reduced by so much as a street car token, either. Some of the lads may have wished to draw down after the situation proceeded beyond the focus of first-night calculations but that happens to be one of the things that is not being done among our best people or even our worst.

However, it is a melancholy fact that the gate receipts apparently are not to be what the maestro, George,

Clifton Flats To Play Wampum Team In Postponed Game

The Clifton Flats team of the American section of the Lawrence County Twilight league will play the Wampum team tonight at 6 o'clock at the Flats field. This game was postponed last Friday on account of rain.

It will be the opening game of the season at the Flats diamond and a large crowd is anticipated. Tuesday night the Clifton Flats team will travel to Mahoningtown to battle the Mahonings in a scheduled league game. Wednesday night the Ryantown team of the National section will be the attraction at Clifton Flats.

Friday night the West Pittsburg Garlands will play at the Flats field in a league game. The Clifton Flats team would like to book a game for Thursday and Saturday of this week, or for any open date the remainder of the season. For games call Willard Stitt at 5786 any evening. All players under contract should report promptly tonight.

Castle Cubs And Indians Capture Junior Contests

The Castle Cubs downed the Pontiacs 11 to 6, in a Junior Recreation League game played at Colonial Field on Saturday afternoon in the inauguration of the newly created Junior circuit.

Davies on the mound for the Cubs held the heavy hitting Pontiacs to seven hits and fanned six men. The Cubs secured sixteen hits off Yesenki and Brinko. Ritchie and Testa were the heavy hitters of the game with three hits apiece.

The Indians defeated the C. C. Sluggers 10 to 4 in a game played at the Lehigh Field. Fulkerson on the knoll for the Indians held the C. C. Sluggers to four-hits and had ten strikeouts to his credit. The game was a loosely played affair with a total of nine errors being chalked up.

Radiator Stars To Play Juniors

The Radiator Colored Stars of the National section of the Twilight League will play the Colored Star Juniors, at the Radiator field on Tuesday night at 6 o'clock.

The Star Juniors have a fast young team and they are confident of taking the Twilight League boys into camp. Manager Pannell will likely send Gray against his former mates. On Thursday night the Radiator Stars will play Hillsville in a scheduled league game at the Radiator field.

Stoy-Corbett Fight Off

Stoy Cannot Fight Here; Bowl Is Being Built

Jolly Plans Big Shows

By ED. FRITZ

Boxing is dotted with pitfalls, precipices, rocks and thorns, plus whatnot and the New Castle Baseball club today awakened to this reality as one Rosey Stoy, alias the Blonde Assasin and Al Corbett, the redhead from Cleveland will not clash as scheduled May 28. Apparently the news passed to the writer by officials of the club was somewhat premature as the Blonde Assassin has another engagement for that evening.

No, Sir, Mr. Fan and Fanette, this Dutchman from Lancaster didn't take the "run-out." He has met Al Corbett, not once but several times and the last time that our optics rested upon the spectacle which they presented we saw Mr. Corbett on the floor having been sent down by Rosey's left. He wasn't out but he was down and when he did get up he wasn't the same Mr. Corbett.

Rather than grab a couple of other cauliflowers to strut their stuff in an act entitled Breaking Noses and Spreading Ears the officials of the ball club have decided to relinquish their desire to promote a pugilistic venture May 28. Realizing how difficult it is to secure a good match on short notice they'll not attempt to secure a substitute.

Carpenters To Start Work

While this has been going on, Sir William Jolly, the gentleman who scored plenty of pugilistic triumphs as chief showman of the Jolly Fistic circus has been untying the rubber band of his bank roll. He has leased a fine plot for a stadium at Grant and Sampson street and according to Sir William the Jolly bowl will soon perk its nose into the air.

The Jolly bowl, according to Sir William, will be the scene of many fistic extravaganzas and should patronage prove by its steady attendance that big battles are desired there are bright hopes of some real topnotchers appearing here this summer. It is said that the Jolly bowl will seat more than 7,000 fans and most of the fighters in the nation would like to play to 7,000 paid customers.

NEW YORK, May 21—Seven major teams which have just finished a disastrous road trip chortled the comforting strains of "There's No Place Like Home" with considerable relief today as they returned to their own neck of the woods. Tommy Armor Will Give Exhibition

Captain V. Arthur Smith Will Also Play Qualifying Round At Oakmont

Golfers of this city are interested in two coming events. One is the fact that Tommy Armor, National Open Champion and Canadian Open Champion, will appear at the course of the New Castle Field club on June 14 in person and play the round of the course with Captain V. Arthur Smith, club professional, as his opponent. It is possible that there may be a foursome in the play with two of the leading players of the field club in action.

It is an event of more than ordinary interest to have a man of the standing of Armor in the golfing world here and there is do doubt but that there will be a record gallery in attendance to witness the event.

The other event in which there is plenty of local interest is the fact that Captain Smith will on June 11 take part in the qualifying round of the National Open tournament at Oakmont.

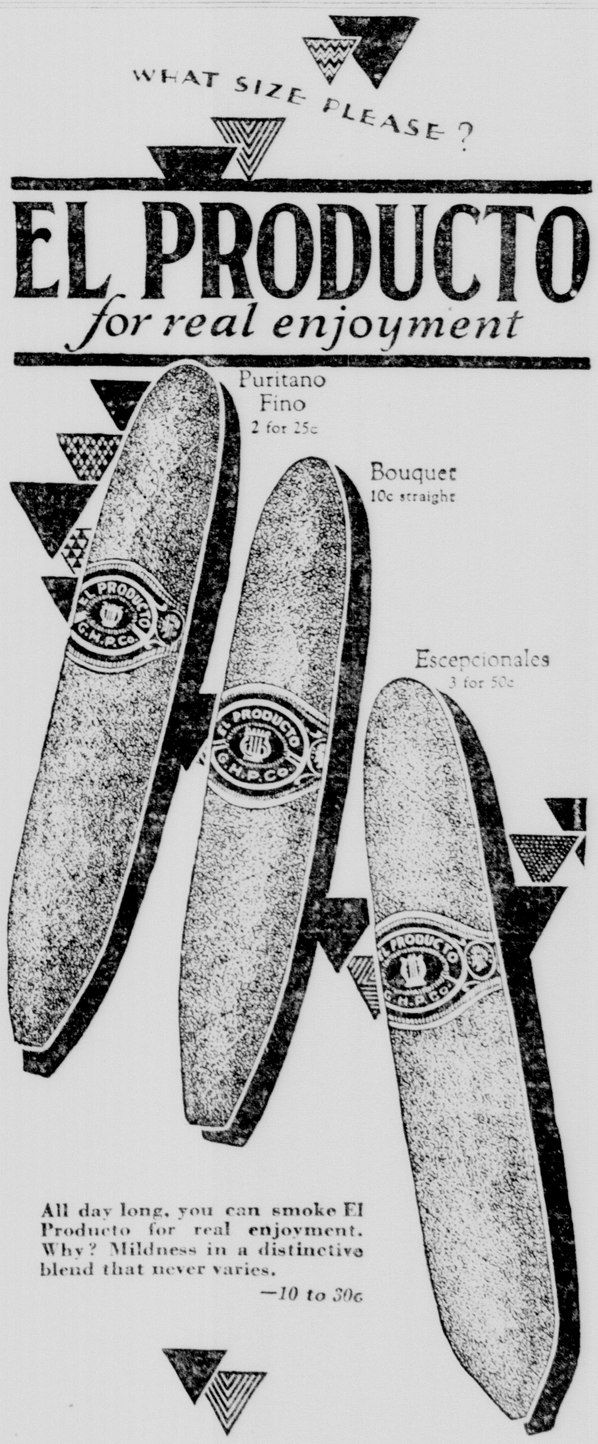
Geneva-Westminster Meet On Wednesday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 21.—Negotiations are being made by A. A. McDonald, Westminster graduate manager of athletics, to have the Westminster-Geneva track meet, scheduled at Geneva Wednesday, run off on the same day on the local college athletic field.

Braced by their defeat over Grove City last Friday and helped by familiarity with their own track, it is thought that the Westminster runners will put up a stiff fight if the meet is held here Wednesday. So far this season the Graham-coached combine has won one contest and lost two by very small margins, losing to Allegheny 71-63 and losing to Tech 69-66.

With a constant improvement showing up in the personnel of the team and with the development of new stars, the local team is pointing to the Tri-State Conference meet in the hope of forcing a first place from the other college teams. Mirtz, Crowell and Hemer have shown exceptionally good form in the last few days and should garner points for the Blue in both the dual meet with Geneva and the conference contest.



Strong Washington High Track Team To Be Here Wednesday

New Castle High To Meet W. P. I. A. L. Champions At Franklin Field In Dual Carnival

Felix Miller, Washington "Flash", Will Be Featured Runner In Big Meet

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Headed by Felix Miller, the "speed merchant", the entire track squad of Washington high school, W. P. I. A. L. and Washington county champions, will appear in New Castle on Wednesday afternoon at Ben Franklin stadium. The meet will start at 2:30 o'clock. New Castle high will oppose Washington in the dual meet.

Recently the Washington high team carried off the honors at the W. P. I. A. L. meet staged at the Pitt stadium, and on last Saturday came through victorious in the annual Washington county high school meet by toppling Monongahela, Donora, Charleroi and Trinity.

New Castle is going to have a lot of competition in this proposed meet. Washington high will carry off the majority of the places in the track events, it is expected, while New Castle will have the edge in the field events.

Miller is Fast.

Miller is perhaps the most outstanding track star at Washington high since the days of Charlie West, the negro sprinter and field expert. Miller is quite capable of running the 100, 220 and 440 all in one afternoon and he has been doing this quite consistently lately. His time for the 100 is something like 10 seconds flat, and his time for the 220 is 22 3-5, turned in Saturday in the Washington county meet.

Walter Smith, Willie Campbell and Paul Reider will be assigned the jobs of stopping the winning streak of this "speed boy". The Ramsay brothers, Wilbur and Willis, will take care of the mile and half-mile for the Washington team. Burry and Meek will run the distance events for New Castle.

New Castle's big hope in the coming meet is Arthur Craft, the weight man. Craft is expected to take three firsts in the field events, chiefly the javelin, shot and discus. If Craft can capture three firsts and grab off 15 points, he will match the work of Felix Miller, who no doubt will be clocked first in the three sprints.

The New Castle team has been working out each afternoon at Franklin field and are in good shape for the meet. New Castle is entered in the Pitt meet scheduled for next Saturday at the Pitt stadium.

Rickard, has been led to expect. Usually you lead the maestro like you lead a hitching post but, anyhow, he looked for a gate of more than a quarter of a million dollars and seems to befinding very little, except difficulty. The out of town trade simply has refused to linger until such time as the flood goes back to Johnstown.

Externally, the form chart on the match remains, as was, Mandell being pegged as the faster hitter and boxer and McLarnin the harder hitter and fighter. However, the uncertainty as to just which man, if either, is to keep his former over the period of inaction has altered the accepted facts to some extent. They are now, in fact not unlike Shipwreck Kelly and the dowager's chin, i. e., up in the air.

The successive postponements have served one purpose, however. They may speak again of Rickard's luck when they discuss weather prospects in connection with his outdoor engagements but, if they do, the matter will be broached only in connection with the question of whether he was or he wasn't a good guy when he had it.

SORDS POINTS—By Jack Sords

Boisterous Bill Regan One Of Few Red Sox Shining Lights

Boisterous Bill Regan, the boy sensation of Bean Town, rates as one of the outstanding young second sackers who have sprung to the fore this season.

The Red Sox guardian of the keystone sack is easily the best bit of baseball machinery the Boston club has had at that spot in years. No longer does the territory between third and first resemble a sieve through which easy outs might plunge to become hits and eventually runs resulting in lost games for the Red Sox.

Regan is a great relief to pitchers. He starts with the crack of the bat and tries for every ball, right or left, that remotely suggests it might travel near his territory. And he gets 'em. There was nary a bobble chalked up against the youngster in his first score of games this season.

Owner Bob Quinn, of the Bostons, spotted Bill while he was playing with Columbus in the American Association. He was purchased, but did not prove an immediate sensation. But this was due greatly to ill health and a period in which he adjusted himself to the faster play of the big circuit.

This season Regan has fielded with the best of them, and while he does not tote an extremely potent war club he is a timely hitter and can place the batted ball into any field.

The trouble with Bill, as far as publicity is concerned, is that the lad is with a club that is almost a sure shot for last place in the American league. If he were with one of the so-called contenders, there might be another story. Traveling with hot company always draws the spotlight.

Incidentally, Walter Gerber, who is now a teammate of Regan, was also discovered by the wily eye of Bob Quinn, which eye, as far as baseball goes, is one of the keenest discoverers of talent now operating.

Cincinnati Wins From Pittsburgh

Waner Drops Fly And Lucas Scoots Home With Winning Run

CINCINNATI, May 21.—When the sun flared into Paul Waner's eyes he dropped a fly from Critz's bat and Pittsburgh lost to the Cincinnati Reds 3 to 2. The misplay came in the ninth and while Waner was recovering the ball and throwing it to force out Picinich, Lucas scored the winning run. Grimes allowed five hits and Lucas eight. Kelly banged out two doubles.

The box score:

REIGH COUNT WINS KENTUCKY DERBY

Favorite Captures Noted Turf Classic By Three Lengths

Reigh Count, favorite, won the fifty fourth Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, Louisville, with its $50,000 prize before 80,000 spectators. Misstep was three lengths behind and Toro was third. The race was a mile and a quarter over a sloppy track. The time was 2:10 2-5.

Personalities IN SPORT

MUDDY RUEL

Harold Ruel, American league catcher, was born in St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 20, 1896.

Ruel broke into baseball with a big league team, his home town club, the Browns. That was in 1915.

The Browns sent him to Memphis in 1916, and he was picked up from that club by the Yankees in 1918.

Ruel drifted from the New York club to Boston in the trade in which the Yanks sent him along with Pratt, Vick and Thormahlen to the Bean Eaters for Hoyt, Schang, McNally and Harper.

Boston traded Ruel with Russell to Washington for Picinich and Shanks, 1922.

He was with the Senators when they won two pennants in 1924 and 1925.

Muddy, as he is known in baseball, bats and throws right handed, stands 5 feet 9¾ inches high and weights 160 pounds.

Diamond Notes

The Pirate Juniors were defeated by the West Side Midgets 16 to 14 in a recent game. D. Ross and Kennedy pitched for the winners and Jones hurled for the losers.

The S. S. Cubs defeated the All-Stars 22 to 16 in a game played at the Gaston Park Field. Riley on the knoll for the S. S. Cubs allowed but eight hits and fanned six batters. The Cubs tallied one or more runs in each of the seven innings.

The Polish Midgets defeated the Oakland Stars 14 to 10, in a game played at Glasser Field. J. Lobaza on the knoll for the Polish Midgets held the Oakland Sluggers in abeyance.

The Oldsmobiles defeated the East Side Indies 8 to 4, in a game played at the Buckeye Field. Liversage and Witherow hurled for the Oldsmobiles and held the Indies to six hits. The winners secured thirteen hits off Campbell and Kelley.

Italian A. C. To Play Edenburg

Strong Edenburg Team Comes To Centennial Field In Twilight League Game

Manager Clem General and his Italian A. C. will battle the Edenburg team on Centennial field tonight at 6 o'clock sharp.

The Italian A. C. won the opener and was rained out in the second contest at Coaltown. The Edenburg aggregation has won one and lost one.

The Edenburg team is composed of former Bessemer, Coaltown and Pennsy stars. Hofmeister, Miller, Hood, Black and Diffley were under the tutorage of "Hub" Hart of Bessemer. Coates from Coaltown and Jones, Huff and Swinehart from the Pennsy, thus making the Edenburg team one of the strongest and classiest teams of the National section of the Lawrence County Twilight league. Phillips of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube team will also be found in the Edenburg lineup.

Turco, Trunci or Kirker will draw the mound duty assignement while Manager Clem General will catch for the Italian A. C. For the Edenburg outfit Hofmeister or Miller will do the twirling.

The Italian A. C.-Edenburg game will be the only game within the city limits. Troop B will entertain the Colored Stars at Coaltown with McCann and Bryson umpiring. Ryantown will travel to Hillsville to entertain the Hillsville outfit. Hudson and Emery officiating. The games will all start at 6 o'clock sharp.

Three Games In Twilight League

Three fast games are on tap tonight for followers of the National section of the Twilight League. The games will start at 6 o'clock.

The Colored Stars will play the Troop B. team at the Coaltown field with McCann and Bryson as the umpires. The Ryantown boys tangle with the Hillsville team at Hillsville with Hudson and Emery as the officials. The Edenburg team will play the Italian A. C. at Centennial Field with Price and Nolte as the umpires.

After listening to the sick alibis of baseball managers this spring, one comes to the conclusion there are but two kinds of ball teams—those on top and those that have the flu.

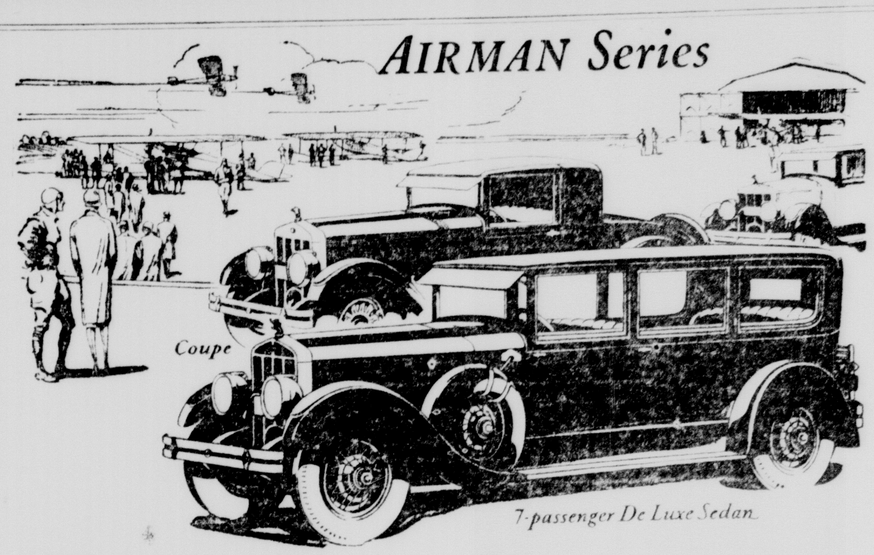
AIRMAN Series



The only cooling system you can run forever - without a cent for upkeep or repairs

YOU simply forget the cooling system of your Airman! With air-cooling, there is nothing—and never will be anything—to fill, drain, mix, tighten, lubricate, replace or repair; no water to boil, freeze or leak.

In Aviation, where only modern and proven principles are used, air-cooling has made water-cooling obsolete and impractical.

In the automobile, air-cooling makes possible equally important advances—in supremely fine motor performance and a most unusual degree of riding comfort. It is because of air-cooling—together with a dozen other exclusive Franklin features—that the Airman is today enjoying its great increase in both sales and popularity.

Nothing equals an air-cooled motor for smooth, quiet unrelenting power to meet any road emergency. The rapid acceleration immediately wins the acclaim of all who ride in the Airman. Equally rapid deceleration is always the positive response from the Airman's synchronized, 4-wheel brakes. And the Airman stands alone in affording sustained high speed with comfort.

We invite you to have a demonstration today. Convince yourself that the Airman is America's most modern motor car. Convenient terms of payment may be arranged.

STREAK OF CUBS FINALLY HALTED

ning thirteen straight games before losing to Boston yesterday. The Cardinals had the next best record in the National league, winning ten out of sixteen. The Giants, who left New York in first place, took only seven out of fifteen and dropped into the third slot. The Phillies copped only one of their thirteen games.

The New York Yankees set the pace in the American league, capturing all of their thirteen contests except one game with Cleveland. The Athletics grabbed ten out of thirteen and the Red Sox suffered but four setbacks in twelve starts. The St. Louis Browns lost ten of their twelve intersectional clashes.

What happens when an irresistable force meets an immovable body will be demonstrated today when the Yanks take on the Red Sox in a double-header. The Yanks have won eight straight and the Sox have coupled six in a row.

Combs Hits Homer

Yesterday the Hugmen swamped the Browns, 9 to 3, putting the game on ice in the fourth inning when Combs smacked a homer with the bases loaded. George Pipgras, the league's leading pitcher, turned in his seventh victory in as many starts.

The Cubs couldn't get past the hoodoo mark of thirteen straight and were stymied by Bob Smith of the Braves, 4 to 3. Boston kayoed Guy Bush and scored three runs in the sixth.

Cincinnati advanced to within one game of the Cubs by nosing out Pittsburgh, 3 to 2, on Allen's hit in the ninth. Lucas and Grimes did the throwing.

Vic Aldridge, holdout pitcher, started his first game for the Giants in the nightcap of a double bill with St. Louis and lost, 2 to 1. The New Yorkers got only four hits, including a homer by Roush, off Sylvester Johnson. The Giants took the opener, 5 to 3. A record crowd of more than 38,000 witnessed the proceedings.

Del Bissonette hit his seventh homer, making him one up on Hack Wilson in the National league home run sweepstakes, as Brooklyn outslugged the Phillies, 11 to 4.

Cleveland shaded Washington, 4 to 3, sweeping the series. Elam Van Gilder of the Tigers captured a 2 to 1 pitching duel from Ted Lyons of the White Sox, driving in the winning run himself in the ninth after Fat Fothergill had tied the score with a homer.

Lawrence Indies To Meet Tonight

The members of the Lawrence Indies baseball team of the American section of the Twilight League will hold an important meeting tonight at 8 o'clock. It is very important that all players under contract attend this meeting.

A new manager and captain for the team will be elected tonight. A discussion of the team's future in the Twilight League will take place. The meeting has been called by Andrew Zidow, business manager.

Roads And Fields Are Badly Washed

Reports have reached The News that roads in the vicinity of New Wilmington, and fields in farms between New Wilmington and the Junction, were badly washed during the terrific rain storm of Saturday.

Much heavier rain fell in that area than in New Castle.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—Both the industrial and the railroad stocks settled down to a lower range of prices at the beginning of trading today. The best reports from the speculative district indicated the liquidation of the industrial and motor stocks was in process, with good buying demand for all stocks offered.

Chesapeake and Ohio declined about 8 points to 197 under heavy offering in the first half hour and Erie lost about 2 points.

With the call loan renewal rate at 6 per cent, financial opinion was considerably divided on the money situation, particularly in view of the resumption of gold exportation. Business reports were generally favorable, the 4 per cent increase in steel output in the first four months of 1928 heading the list.

The airplane stocks lost about 8 points in a reduced volume of trading in this period. Curtiss declining to 138 and Wright to 197. Persistent selling of General Motors resulted in a new 2½ point decline to 191, while Radio lost 4 points at 172½ and Consolidated Gas 3. United States Steel slipped off 1¼ points and moderate losses were sustained by a few of the dividend rails.

Strength in Delaware and Hudson was the feature of the merger rails, that stock jumping 7 points to 214½. National Cash Register reached a new high on the movement at 64, and after early irregularity Studebaker was ready to resume its forward move.

The volume of trading in the forenoon fell off moderately from the same periods last week, but bullish moves in the specialties were pursued with considerable vigor. Oils were steady and equipment stocks firm.

Cannot Specify Paving Material

Councilmen Adopt New Course Relative To Paving Streets

CLAIM CONTRACTORS MAY BOOST PRICE

Council today during formal session at the city building decided by their action that henceforth petitions which specify a certain kind of paving material will not be acceptable and the property-owners will have to present new petitions. Council indicated this step for what they claim is economical reasons.

Today residents of Mever avenue asked that the avenue be paved between Highland avenue and Carlisle street with a concrete base and an asphalt top. They also requested a width of 24 feet.

"We should not consider any petition which specifies the material," suggested Councilman Davies.

He added that contractors being informed of the desire of the residents and council having accepted such a petition and having it written in an ordinance might present a high price in their bids and the city would be bound by the ordinance to accept.

Let us return the petition. I do not like the recommendation in the petition," said Burns and his suggestion was accepted.

Fireman In Crack New York-To-Pittsburgh Pennsy Express Is Wreck Victim

TRAIN PLOWS INTO FREIGHT CARS

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 21.—Investigation of a wreck on the Pennsylvania line here yesterday in which John D. Dresse, 44, of Altoona, fireman on the crack New York to Pittsburgh express, was killed and four passengers injured, was under way today.

The express, "The Pittsburgher," plowed into two derailed freight cars within sight of the station here. The locomotive of the express was demolished and Dresse was buried under the debris, scalded by steam.

Passengers asleep in their berths were badly shaken up, and two Pittsburghers, Mrs. Eli B. Kaufmann and Mrs. H. C. Elste, sustained cuts and bruises. A Pullman porter also was bruised.

Flood Lights For College Tower

SENIOR CLASS TO PROVIDE SYSTEM

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 21.—Four powerful flood lights will illumine the "Old Main" Memorial tower now under construction here upon its completion, according to action taken by the members of the senior class of the college who voted to finance the installation of such lights as a memorial from the class.

According to the plans of the class committee, four powerful flood lights will be installed on each side of the great "Old Main" Memorial tower, so that on special occasions the tower will be so lighted that it may be viewed for a radius of several miles on the darkest nights.

This system of lights, which will cost the senior class approximately $500, will be installed when the new college administration building is finished. The members of the student committee who put the plan in front of the class for action are Donald McClure, chairman; Olive Hoffman and Florida Lindsay.

Seniors To Picnic On Next Monday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 21. — It was announced here today that the date of the annual senior class picnic would be held next Monday at McLaughry's Woods. The local place for the student social was picked because of the fact that when the class held its first picnic this same spot was visited.

Definite plans for the program of the seniors last informal social gathering have not yet been completely formulated, but it is expected that stunts and a few informal talks by prominent members of the class will be arranged. The picnic committee includes the following members of the graduating class: Orvil Mirtz, chairman; Elizabeth Weingartner, Howard Kelly, Helen Sankey and Grace Doolittle.

Traffic Laws Of The Universe

By S. S. MYERS

Yes, the Universe has traffic laws and they are better observed than some of those on the earth. Of the million upon millions of stars which comprise our Universe all are moving, singly or in groups, some in one direction and some in another—a vast kaleidoscope of motion, changing old and well known constellations and forming new ones.

So far as the span of human life is concerned these changes appear to be taking place very slowly, because of the vast distances in space which separate us from the stars, yet some of them are moving at the amazing speed of seven hundred miles a second. Sirius and some of the stars in Orion are moving in the same direction, while other stars in Orion are moving in a different direction. The Big Dipper is gradually losing its shape. Ten thousand years from now the two stars forming the bottom of the bowl will be almost together, the one slightly below the other, and the shape of the dipper will have disappeared. Only a few of the more than four hundred stars in the Pleiades are moving in the same direction. Stars in Hercules and Lyra are spreading apart while those on the opposite side of the heavens are coming together, which shows that our Sun with its system of planets is drifting toward Hercules and Lyra. And we are sweeping along at the rate of one million miles a day.

It would seem, therefore, that among all these swift, various movements of the stars there would inevitably be many collissions. But not so, because they are all obeying the traffic laws of the Universe. The field of gravity extends to wherever there is matter, and by it the stars are forced to move in certain directions, and each star or group of stars at a certain speed, just as our earth and the other planets are held in their orbits by the Sun. It is only occasionally that two stars approach near enough to each other to produce tidal waves and perhaps give birth to a family of planets. But that is the result of design by the Great Architect of the Universe and not an accident.

At one time there was an idea that there exists a central Sun about which all the starry heavens move in vast cycles of time. But the movement of the stars are so complex that no one has ever been able to locate a point around which all the stars revolve. There is, so far as astronomers know, no general plan in accordance with which the heavens move.

"But," says Professor Herbert Howe, "the design of the Creator may not involve any particular form of orderly movement which the mind of man has yet conceived. The fact that the molecules which compose the marble statue do not revolve around a common center, or move in curves whose sinuosities can be embraced in a formula, does not detact from its beauty, or argue the absence of design. The entrancing beauty shines forth, and speaks eloquently of the cunning hand of the sculptor."

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Elbert Hubbard's advice was to never explain, never apologize, your friends don't need it and your enemies won't believe you. But there are times when even Hubbard can be disregarded. This is one of them.

Recently a paragraph appeared in this colyum to the effect that Memorial Park was all prettied up for Memorial Day. But no mention was made of the cannon. The cannon is nicely painted and the painting was done by Joe Knowles. Hence this paragraph in which Joe is thanked.

Something must have happened to my friend John Connery's horse, "Strolling Player" in the Kentucky Derby. John had it all figured out that Strolling Player would stroll in a winner. Apparently the strolling one took to much time.

The wise driver did his automobile touring on a porch yesterday. Every road in and out of New Castle was jammed with cars from those near wrecks to the Bankruptcy Eights. Somehow or other the Sunday driver seems to be more reckless than the week day lad. Dont know just why it it but there seems to be more reckless driving on one Sunday afternoon than all the other days combined. And you can't get a fender sheared off on a porch.

Years ago the street was a quiet residence section, named after a band of reverent people. The houses were set back from the sidewalk leaving enough room for a little plot of grass and the old fashioned bay window was popular. And on a summer evening the steps of the houses were filled with the folks enjoying the cooling breezes. But that was years ago. Today most of the dignified old houses have been changed into shops and the smoke of industry blows right across the street. And instead of the scent of lilac and honeysuckle perfuming the air of a summer evening one gets the odor of succulent hot dogs and frying onions. Times do change, and so do streets.

If this weather continues as it should the old summer vacation trip will be getting taken out of mothballs and overhauled for some more mileage. Seashore, mountain, lake and city all of them will get a play and everybody to his own choice. But there is one spot in Pennsylvania, hidden away in a mountain fastness, far from the beaten path that seems to me to be a vestpocket edition of what Paradise is. No ear splitting hurdy gurdies grind out their melocies there, not even a railroad train gets in there. Its just quiet and peaceful. About the only thing you can buy is food and lodging, or on special occasions a chocolate soda. Ten o'clock at night everything is quiet and the only sports during the day are swimming, boating, horseback riding and golf. And this is no advertisement for Eaglesmere up in Sullivan county either for the people who own it don't care if you come or not. But once you do go up, you wanto go back.
